Glimpses of Our Town & School

Advisor Frank Brady

Principal's Message

A short time ago I attended a dinner honoring a very prominent citizen and golfer. Coincidentally, I was seated at the table with two men who had been graduated from Galileo in the early 30's. When they heard that I was connected with this great school, a warm glow appeared on their faces. Questions were asked with great enthusiasm and rapidity. "Are the Lions still there?" "How is that palm tree in the courtyard?" "Do they still have a senior bench?" "Is Miss _____ still there? She used to be my reg. teacher!"

During the two or more hours the barrage continued with keen interest emotion and finally one of them said, "I think of Galileo quite often. Every once in a while we try to get a few of our gang together and talk of our wonderful high school days. 'You know,' he continued, 'sometimes we don't appreciate what a wonderful opportunity we have in high school until it's too late. 'Boy, I wish I had it to do over again.'"

Soon many of you will be graduated. Each will go his own way. Though you may be miles apart, you will be held together by a common bond...a life line which brings you together in spirit...because you attended Galileo.

Dedication

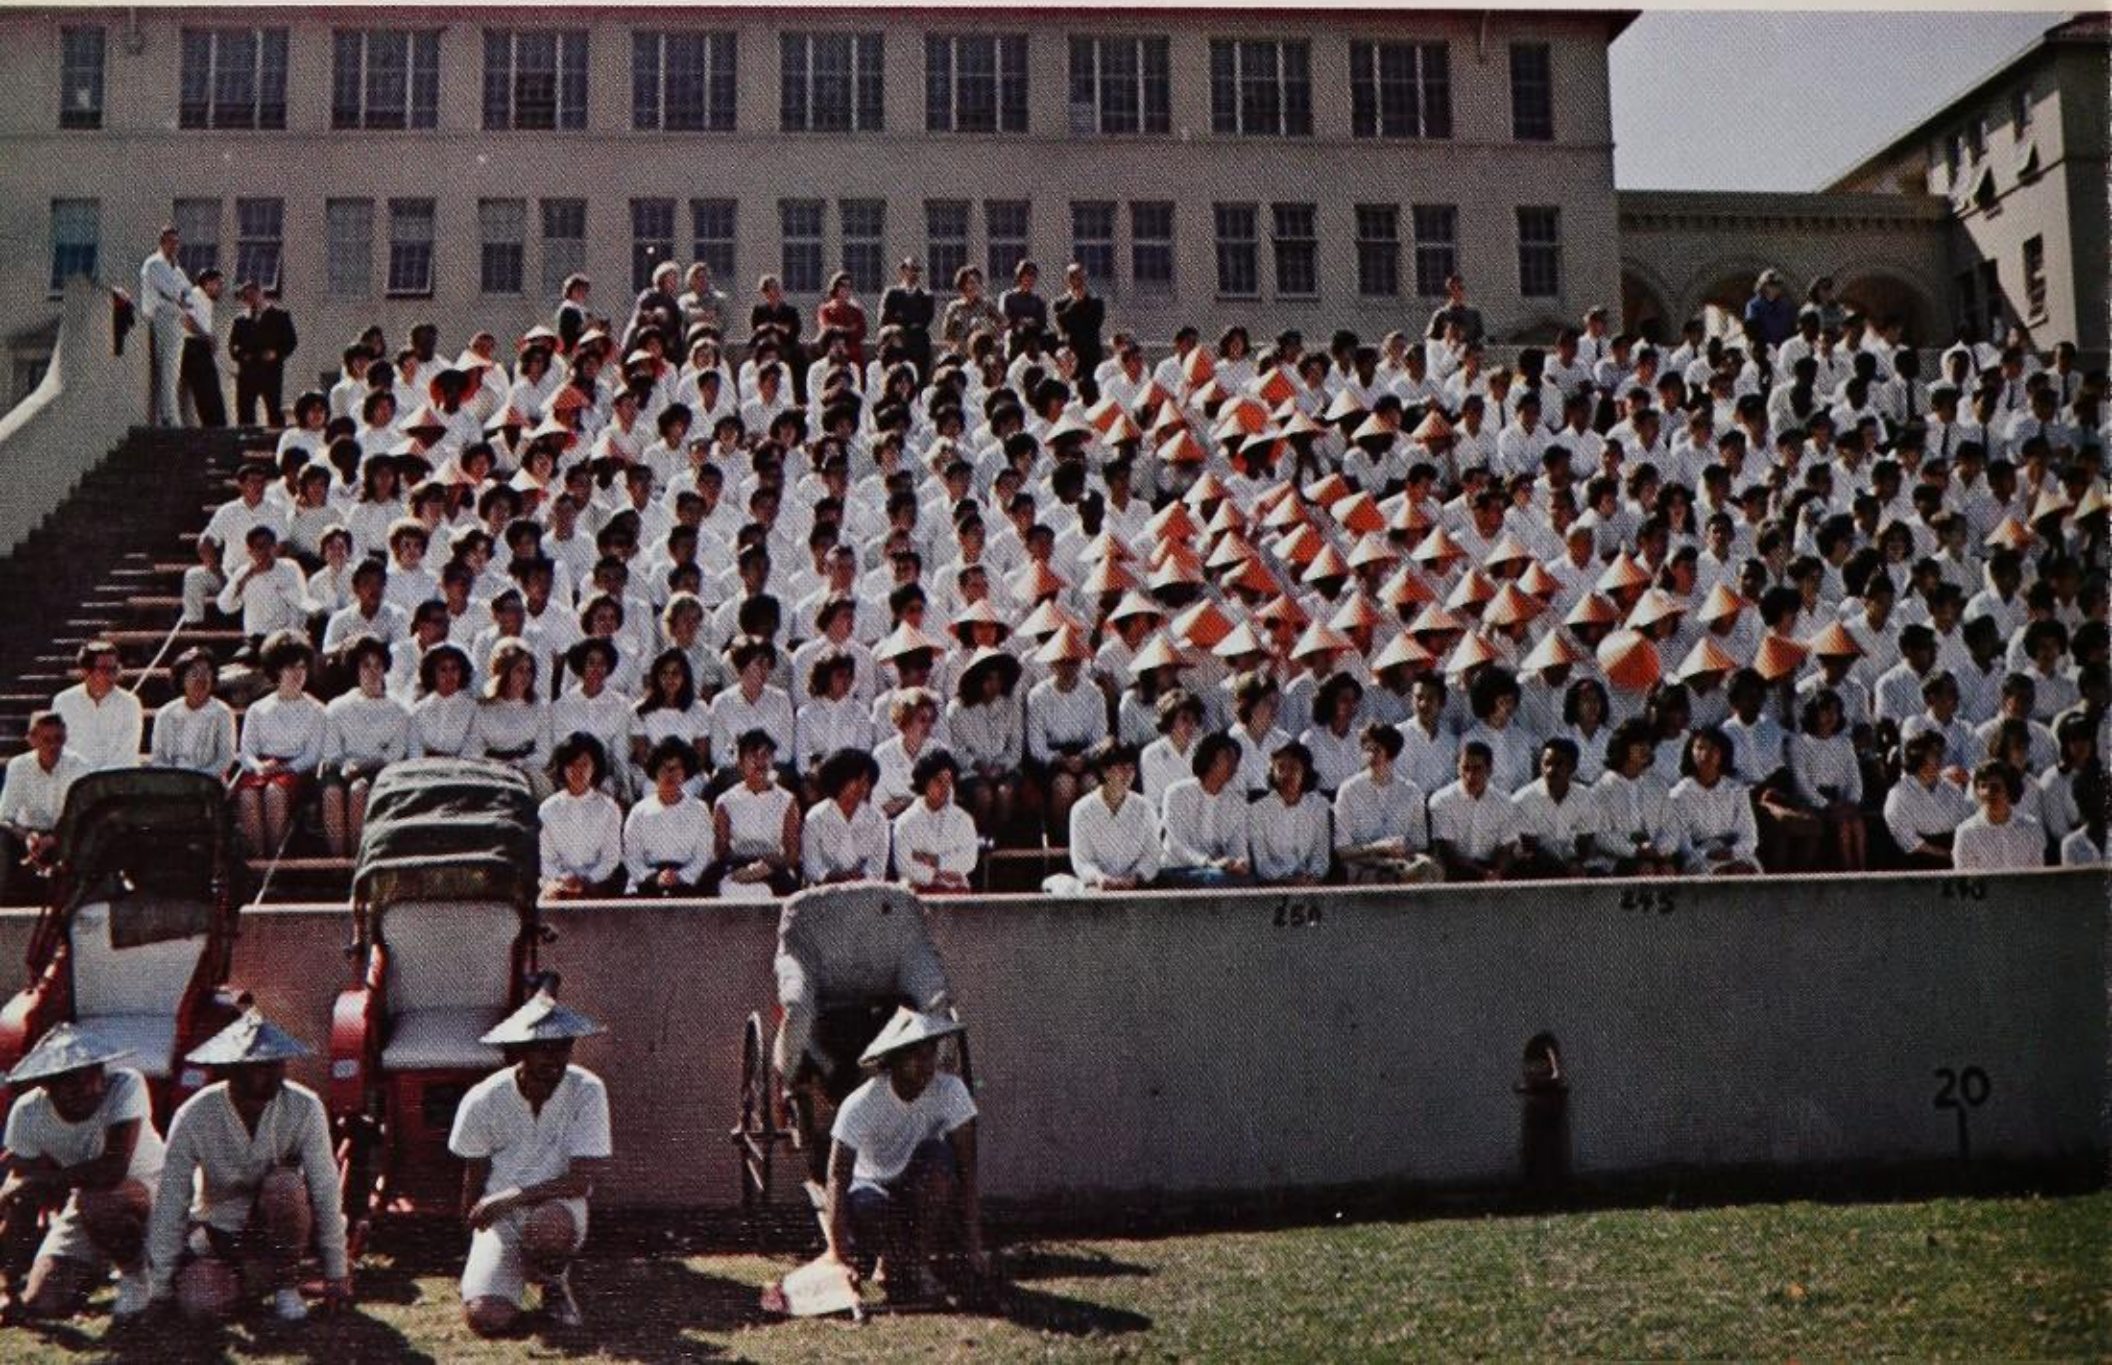

This is more than a dedication; it is a thank-you to Mr. Frank Brady for the endless hours he has spent as advisor of the Telescope. The night before deadline one can find him in his darkroom printing pictures, writing copy or creating a layout. Mr. Brady's home, as well as room 452 is a yearbook workshop. Often the staff has spent the whole day at his home in order to meet a deadline. We, the 1963 Telescope staff, take special pleasure in this dedication because we are the only one of the Yearbook staffs, (at Galileo and at the other three high schools where he was yearbook advisor,) that has succeeded in dedicating a book to him.

Since most of the 1963 staff will be gone with graduation, we hope that this Telescope will serve as a remembrance of us and as a token of our gratitude.

Sharing the dedication is Miss Madelaine Madsen. Affectionately known as M.M. to most of her students, she advises Gal's most active service club, the Lion's League. Besides service to the school, the Lion's League is known for its rollicking trips to Disneyland. These field trips would never materialized had it not been for Miss Madsen's perseverance. One can see Miss Madsen speeding to school every morning via her cocoa-colored Thunderbird in order to sell school items in the "Robber's Roost," the store run by the Lion's League. A very loyal supporter and lover of sports, she attends all games whether they are played at home, Kezar Stadium, or Big Rec. To Miss Madsen we extend gratitude on behalf of all the students for her contribution to Galileo.

SENIORS CRY VICTORY

J-U-N-I-O-R-S JUNIORS!

JUNIORS WIN ON FIRST TALLY

BUT ... SENIORS TAKE CUP

Queen Bonnie commands the contest to begin.

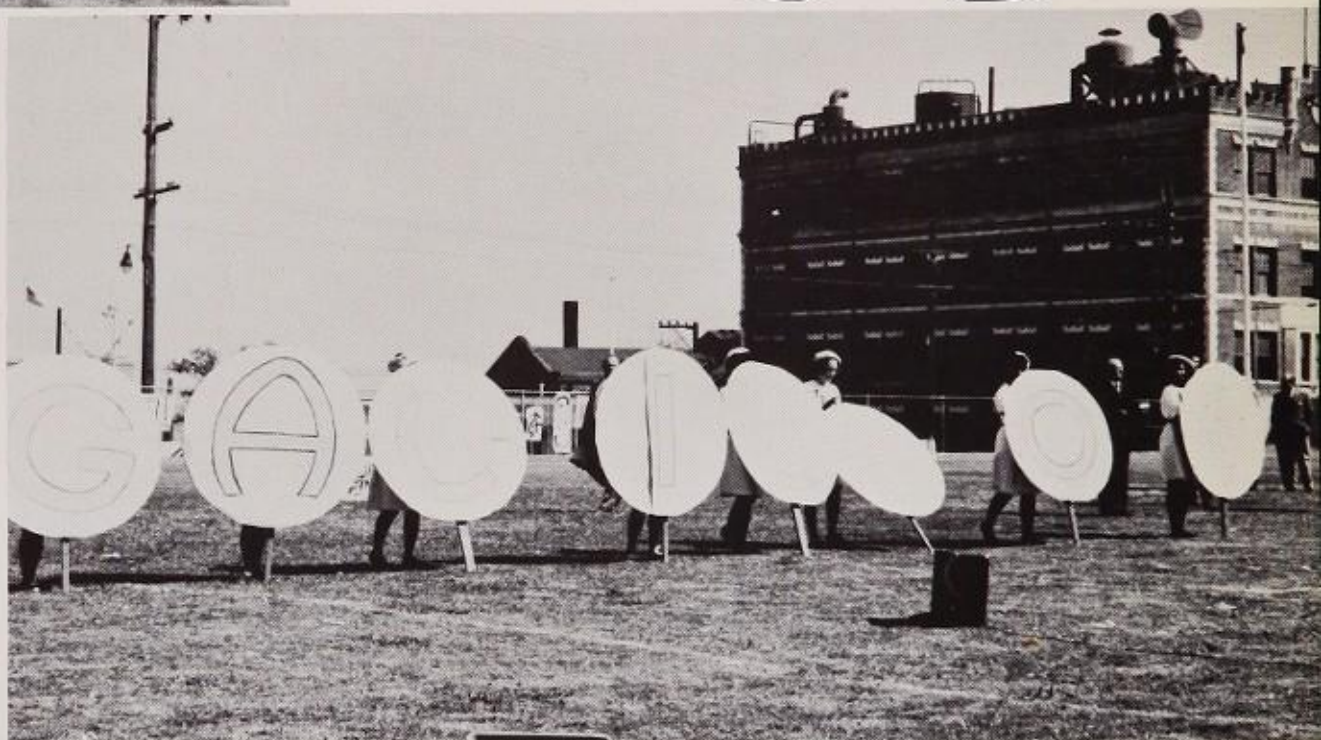

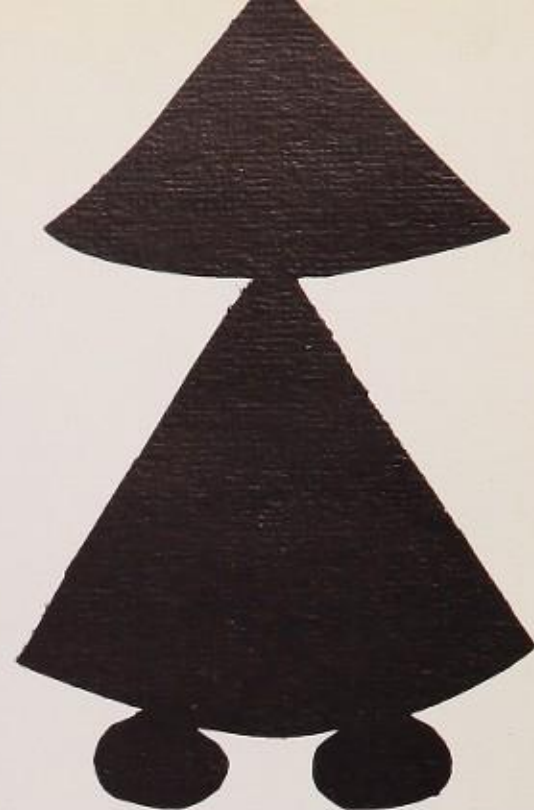

"Big 10 Circus" was the theme of the Sophomore skit.

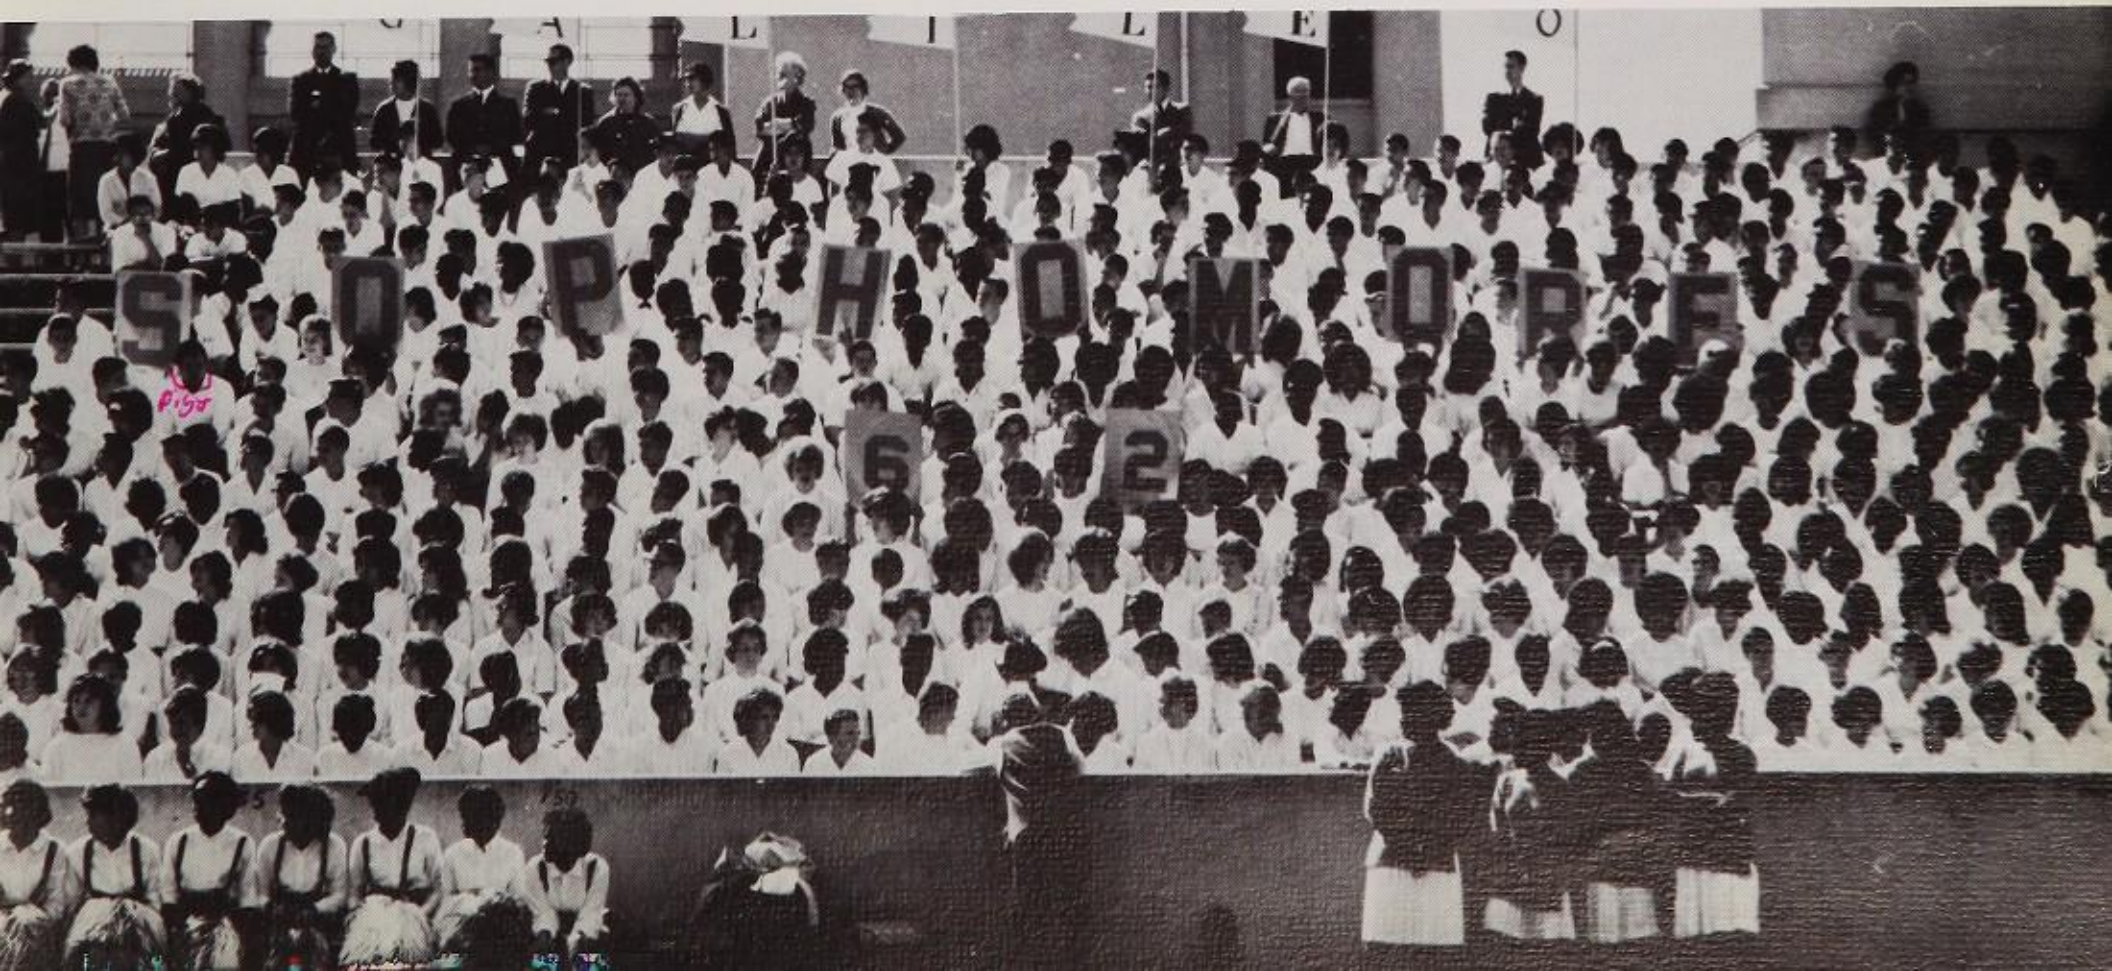

The Senior class, carrying out the theme of "Ping", staged a rickshaw race as part of their skit.

The Song and Yell Contest is a Galileo tradition dating back to 1945. It arouses school spirit for the coming football season, as each class works feverishly to win the gold cup. The classes are required to sing the school hymn, fight song, and prepare a skit, in addition to the yells. Judging is based on the general appearance, performance and conduct of each section. Never at any time throughout the school year is there as much enthusiasm and spirit among Galileans as when they perform at the Song and Yell Contest. This year the competition between classes was great, but the Senior class upheld its promise to win!

SOPHOMORES, ARE YOU READY?

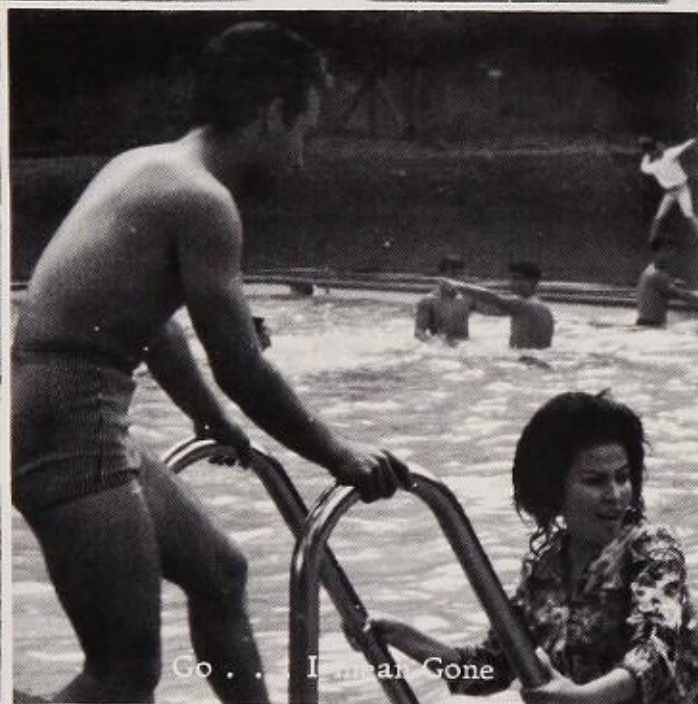

On your mark,

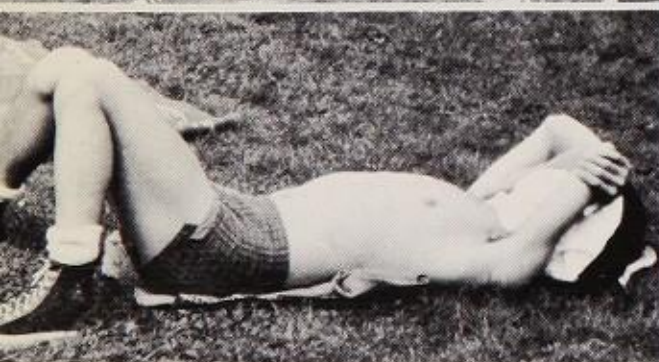

SENIOR PICNIC

One hundred and two excited seniors, dragging a guitar, a congo drum, swimming suits, and food, clamored into buses on October 9, 1962, and headed for McNear's Landing, across the bay near San Rafael.

Upon arrival, the eager seniors immediately engaged in various activities. Kathy S., a victim of pool dunking, spent the day drying her clothes. Slimy, raw eggs dripped down from unfortunate participants of the egg throwing contest, which was won by Ulpiano M. and Phyllis J. twice. There were outfits of all kinds, but Diane B., who wore a bikini, stole the show, especially while twisting. Clydis S. and Sam S. walked off with the twist contest prizes after having displayed some unique hand and leg motions. Meanwhile, over at the pool, Terry L. won two swimming contests. Ulpiano M. Proved himself to be the limbo champion of the day as he strained under the oars along with Ron L. 's accompaniment of the congo drums. Needless to say, there was fun and food for all at the picnic.

Bruins Outrun Lions

Mission quarterback fakes back to pass as Terry Lofrano, tackle, and Ed Parker, halfback, move in.

Meeting a powerful Bear eleven in Galileo stadium, the plucky, but un-experienced Lions were quickly baptized by the burly Bears as Mission rolled over, around, and through the lion defense. The Lions were out passed, outrun and outblocked. The bright spot of the day was the lone touchdown by John King, end, tossed by Lanny Ross, quarterback, on a 49 yard pass play in the fourth quarter. With heavy hearts Gal rooters took a last look at the scoreboard which read 33-6.

Against S.I.

Showing determination and real hustle, the Lion defense put up a terrific fight against S.I., a strong senior ball club, on September 28 at Kezar Stadium. During the first quarter, the Wildcats were held in check, but as the second quarter brought fresh reserves, the defense was unable to stop S. I. advances. The final score was 39-0.

PEP-CLINIC

POLY MISSION
WASHINGTON BALBOR
LINCOLN SACRED HEART

The Pep-Clinic brought forth many useful suggestions, but most important it developed goodwill and friendship among the student leaders of the participating schools.

Lowell High was the only school that was absent.

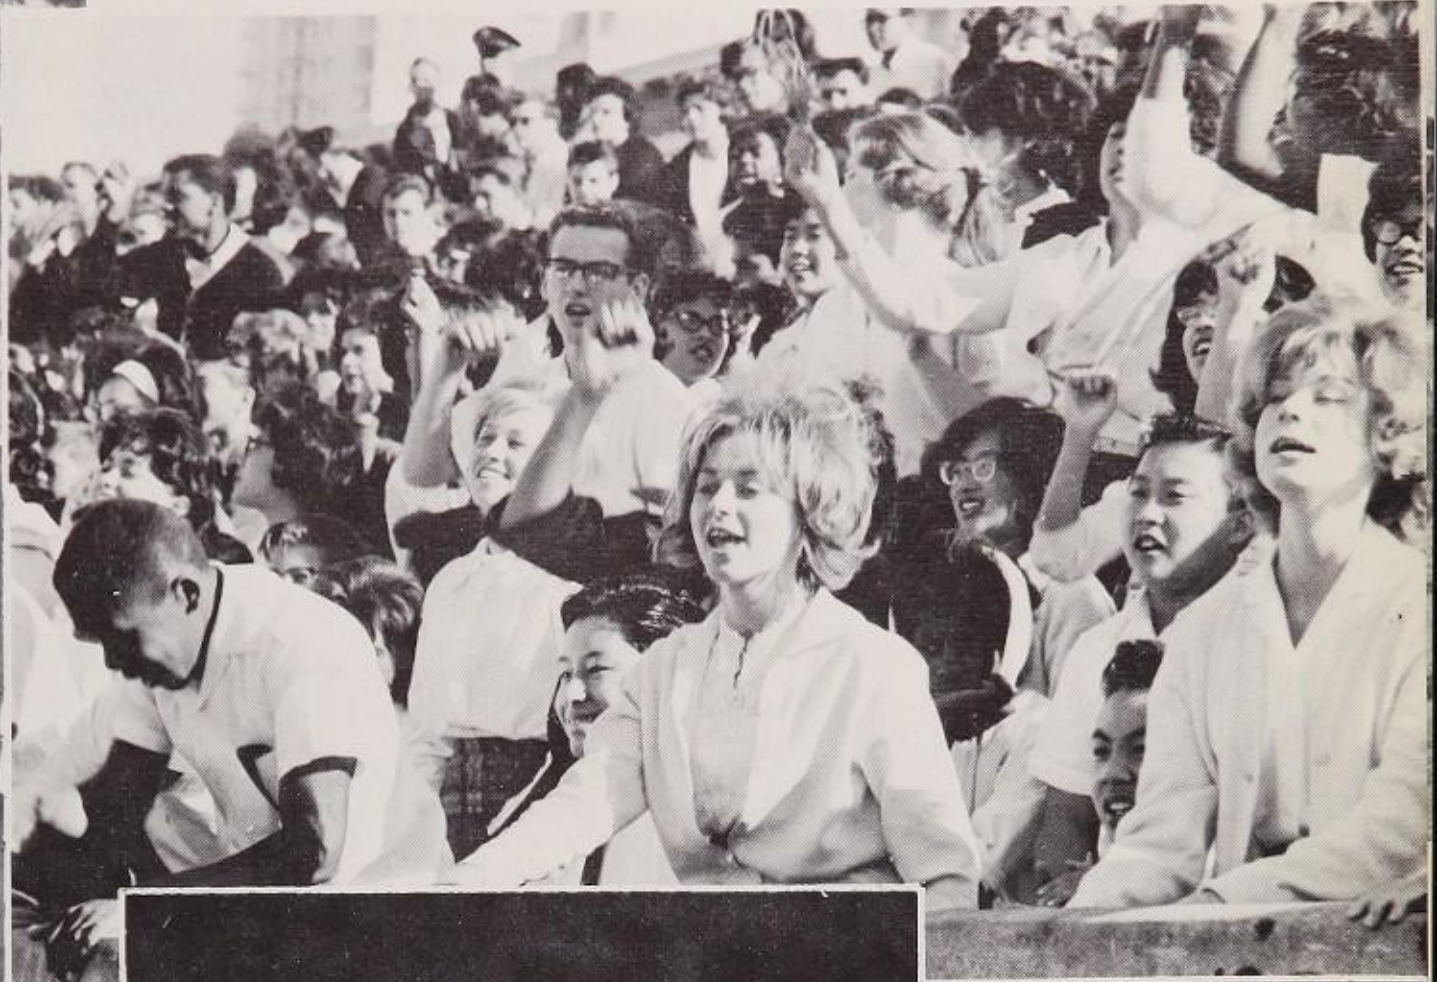

The City's First . . . At Galileo

Song girls demonstrated their routines, Student Body officers exchanged ideas, yearbook editors compared methods and means of producing yearbooks, newspaper editors talked about advertisements and yell leaders shook the school in the attempt to out yell one another. This was Galileo on Saturday morning, October 6, as we played host to the first annual Pep-Clinic. The Clinic was created in the attempt to give the schools a chance to exchange ideas and methods, in the hopes of bettering school activities. A general assembly gave the representatives a chance to become acquainted; this was followed by discussion groups and a lunch in the courtyard. A general assembly was held after lunch during which reports were made on the activities of each group.

A Mission player runs into trouble as Jim Wooley, Dave Pelligrini, Ed Parker, Terry Lofrano, and Don Holsworth run in to make the tackle.

Galileo puts on the big squeeze with Don Holsworth, Bill Pascoe, and Ed Parker jump in a pile-up.

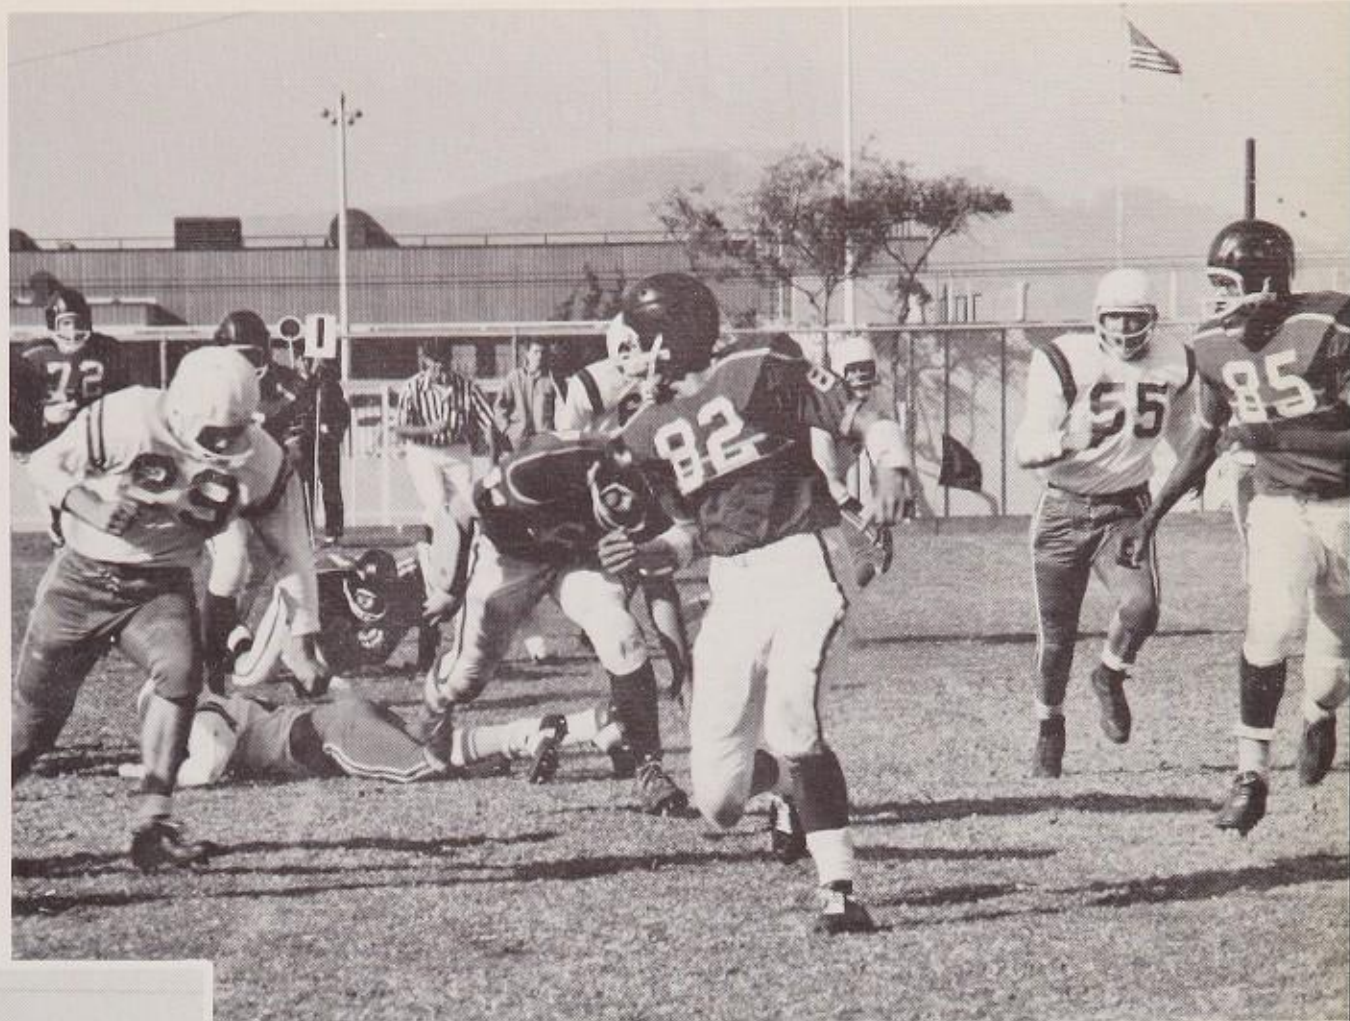

S. I. players are stopped cold by the ability of Mike Hicks to run with the ball, as Ken Cereghino blocks out a S.I. player.

Andrew Bates and Ken Cereghino get help from Don Holsworth as they come in to tackle.

The mighty arm was put to the test by Galileo's Bob Domingue as he fires a pass downfield.

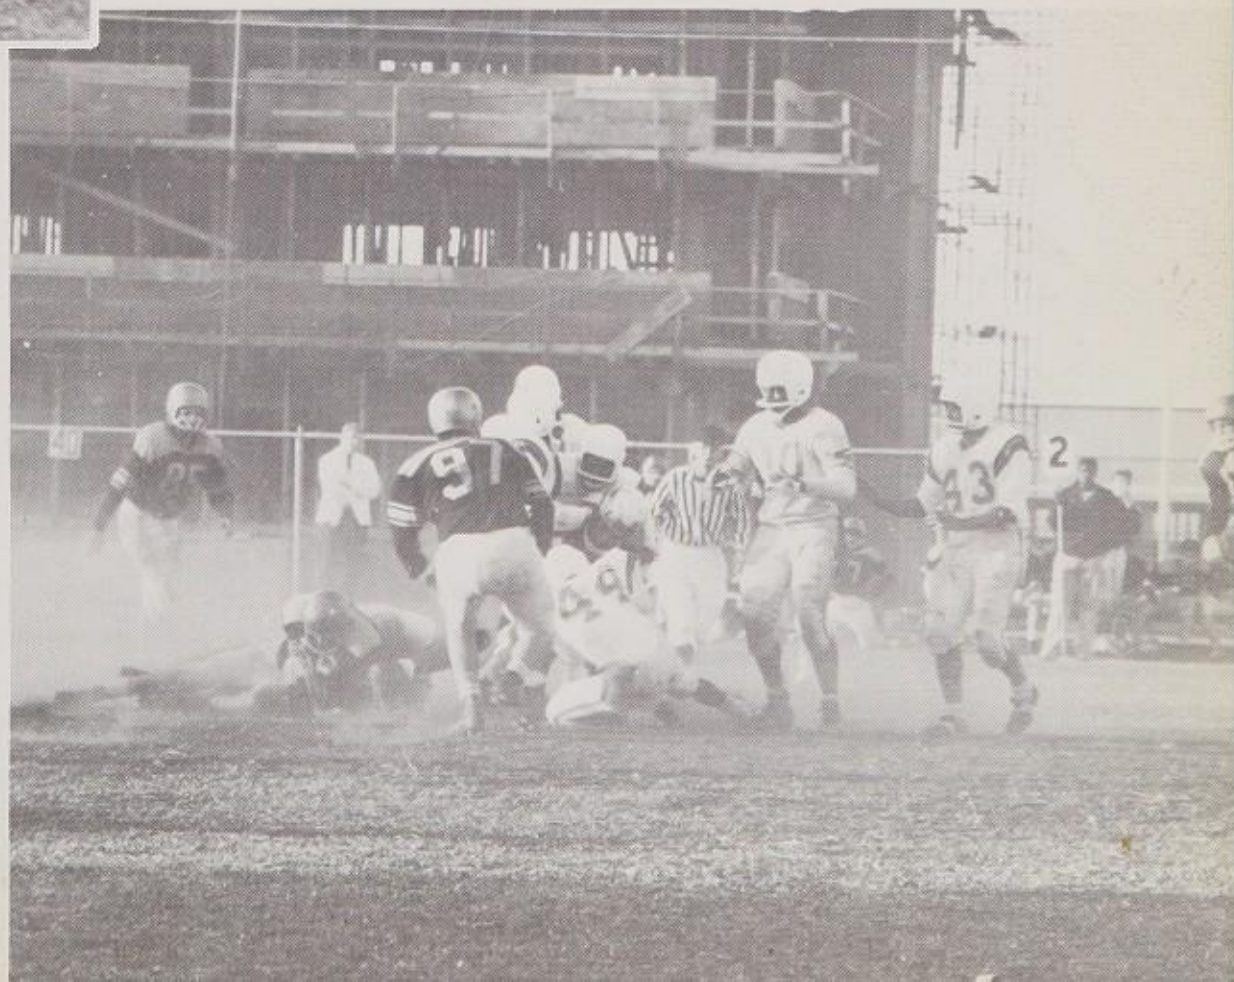

A Parrot runs into trouble as he faces up to Kim Stewart with Bill Pascoe running in to help.

Balboa is thrown for a three yard loss by Wade, Ranjo, White, and George, as Jackson and Pineda look on.

Terry Lofrano, Aaron Amerson, and Don Holsworth run in to help an unidentified team mate.

Under the great coaching ability of Coaches McBride and McCaffrey, our Junior Varsity team won five out of their eight games, making two of them shut-outs. Their five-eight record was achieved by beating Poly, Sacred Heart, Balboa, Mission, and Lincoln. All players presented a wonderful performance in the entire league play, and there lies much potential within the team for future varsity victories.

Soph-Frosh

Coach McCaffrey and his Soph-Frosh team have shown an outstanding display of football with their three-three wins, which was achieved by emerging victorious over Poly, Balboa, and Washington. Their game with Lowell this year was cancelled because of rain.

ROTC

Galileo's ROTC Unit has proved to be the finest in the city by winning first place at the annual city-wide 91st Competition of 1962. Galileo won the following competitive contests:

Drill Platoon	1st Place
Drill Team	2nd Place
3rd Yr Ind Manual of Arms	1st Place
2nd Yr Ind Manual of Arms	1st Place
Highest scored 3rd Yr cadet Examination	1st Place

This resulted in a 1st place trophy brought home by our cadets. This represented the All-around Competition. Galileo also received a trophy for their 1st place Drill Platoon.

During the Fall 1962 term, the battalion was commanded by Cadet Lt. Colonel Daniel Wall. His staff included: C/Major Brian Phillips, Executive Officer; C/Major Adam Wolf, Adjutant; C/Captain Oliver Bakke, Training Officer; C/1st Lt. Garrett Lee, Public Information Officer; and C/MSGT Tyrone Cobb, Supply Administrator.

Company Commanders consisted of C/1st Lt. Tony Leong, "A" Company; C/1st Lt. Dennis Go, "B" Company; and C/1st Lt. Daniel Simpler, "C" Company.

During the Fall Term, The Battalion Staff, Color Guard, Drill Team, and Drum & Bugle Corps participated in the Columbus Day Parade.

Our ROTC Cadets participated in various functions. They included the K. O. Polio Drive, the training of San Francisco's School Safety Patrol for their annual review, ushering at the Teachers Institute, graduating ceremonies, and many other activities.

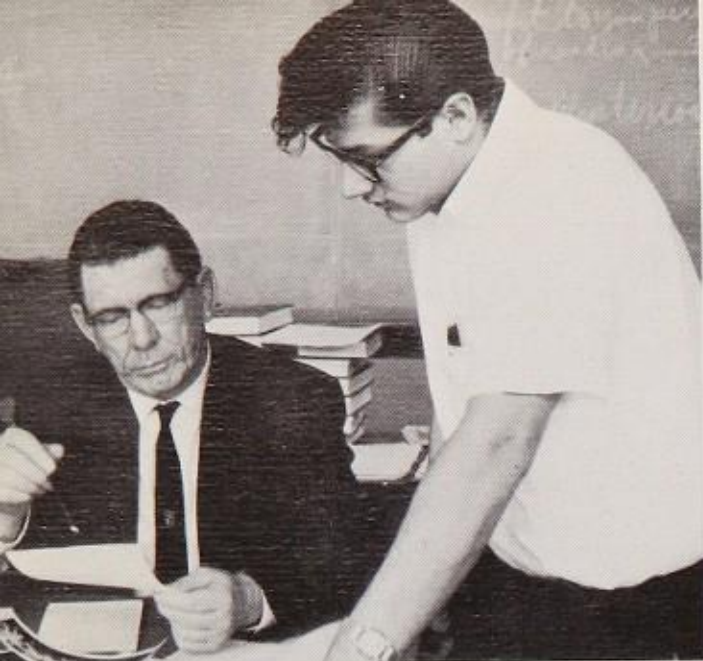

Galileo's ROTC Battalion consisted of two rifle teams headed by the Battalion Commander, C/Lt. Colonel Daniel Wall.

Galileo's Drill Team placed second, losing first place by only one point, in the city-wide drill team competition held at North Beach playground.

Each morning, Galileans were brought to attention for the flag ceremony by the Drum and Bugle Corps.

CLASS

Reminiscence

In February 1960, a small group of tenth graders entered the auditorium. We were either looking around amazed at the size of the auditorium or looking for friends from other junior high schools. We seemed a little awkward, a little insecure, and a little proud of being in high school.

Three years later, those of us who survived marched down the aisle of Nourse Auditorium and the thoughts of the memorable moments we enjoyed together flashed through our minds. We remembered the Low Ten Popcorn Sale; the many hours of work in organizing it, the mounds of popcorn on the ground and the fun and profit the class received from it.

Recalling the Song and Yell Contests, we remembered when we were juniors and the difficulty we had in filling and hiding the two huge weather balloons that sat in the middle of the field during the contest. It rained the night of the Junior Prom. As Seniors we recollected our frantic search for rickshaws when we carried out the theme "Ping" for the Song and Yell Contest. The city was covered by a blanket of thick fog for our Senior Prom.

After graduation we went our separate ways; only the memories linger in our minds to remind us of high school friends.

During his three years at Galileo, Ulpiano Musni has been an outstanding student. He was class president in the high ten, low and high eleven and high twelve! Along with these responsibilities, he was registry president and assistant yell leader of the school. He was a member of the Lions League and of the A Cappella Choir. He not only sang with the choir, but he also sang at rallies. He was truly a talented, well-liked, and dependable Galilean.

A native born Hawaiian, Camille Pang came to Galileo as a junior. Since then, she has actively participated in almost everything--which includes Lions League, Silver Seal, CSF, GAA, and Girls Council. She has been president of her registry twice, and at this time she is in the Senior Council.

Camille will be remembered for her witty remarks, her clever ideas, her brightly colored muumuus, her quick sense of humor, and her friendly personality.

When you see a poster advertising the coming dance with the monogram "Gia" in the corner, you know the Girls' Vice-president Sharon Giovacchini designed it. Art is Sharon's favorite hobby. As the school's first historian, she created a new bulletin board every month, along with planning the school scrapbook. When "Teahouse of the August Moon" was chosen as the term play, Sharon helped design most of the sets. Lions League, the Song and Yell Contest, and life member of the Silver Seal Society are among the many activities in which she took part.

A very warm and sincere senior, Cheryl Hansen enjoyed representing her school as a song girl. As varsity song girl, during the 1962 basketball season, Cheryl planned all rehearsals and spent hours helping to organize routines. Cheryl loves the outdoors and was an active participant of the GAA.

The girl who worried this book into shape, led the staff to do their best work, and met those dreadful deadlines is competent Pat Boitano. Pat was co-editor of the spring semester '62 book and fall editor of the '63 TELESCOPE. For a year she kept both Bob and Terry happy as their recording secretary in two of the best administrations Gal has had. Service and leadership were the key words for this hard working girl.

Athlete, scholar, leader, No. 42 in the line, life member of Silver Seal, year and one half resident of 320; this is Terry Lofrano. If you were in the stands during football season, you watched Terry play first string varsity tackle. As athletic manager, he sold tickets to the games; as boys' vice-president, he upheld and ran Student Court; as student body president, he ran 320 and led the student body. When you passed 320 and heard a voice saying "All right gang, let's get busy," you knew "Lofrano" was there. An outstanding senior, Terry plans to attend college and study engineering or architecture.

A quick sense of humor, a sweet smile, and a warm personality defines Kathy Wrigley. Since the low ten, Kathy has lent a hand in all class activities. If there was typing to be done for our class, Pat Mar was always on hand. She was class secretary and registry vice-president and secretary. Among her other activities are: member of the senior class council, and was a member of the prom committee. As a high senior, Pat was chosen varsity song girl because of her pep and precision. Pat will be remembered for her size--petite, personality--sweet, and her enthusiasm toward Galileo.

Dimpled Glora spent three very active years at Galileo. She was a song girl for the Song and Yell Contests, and impressed many with her modern dancing, especially at the Spring Festival. Glora likes home economics and baseball, which she always played at Lion's League picnics. A very popular and amiable girl, Glora was chosen as our Girls' Vice President during our last term.

TURNABOUT DAY

Again this year as has been traditional at Galileo, the graduating seniors took over the teaching duties on Turnabout Day. Each senior experienced for a day the trials and tribulations a teacher faces the year round. Some of the forty-seven brave souls are shown here: Jocelyn Lai, Mr. Silva; Diana Balagot, Miss Madsen; Patricia Boitano, Mr. Brady; Pat Yee, Miss Nelson; Phyllis Jackson and Glora Washington, Miss Garten; Hiep Ngo, Mr. Levaggi; Howard Chin, David Leo, and Leslie Young, Mr. Bajor; Prudence Ding, Mr. Devaney; Jackie McClendon, Mr. Donohue; Mary Fong, Dr. Carlson; and Pat Ward, Mrs. Clements. Trying to fill the shoes of a teacher, as these people found out, is a mighty big task!

Boy, did these guys blow up a storm!

Officers Klein and Brophy report to the "President" as to the condition of the country.

Under the direction of Mr. Clement Kennedy, The Galileo Footlights Club presented "Arsenic and Old Lace" as this year's term play. The cast of seventeen consisted mainly of Seniors.

The part of Abby Brewster was shared by Mary Goosev and Yvonne Stratton. Vicki Flaherty and Diane Gay alternated in the role of Martha Brewster, and Kohala Hembre and Kathy Donohue in the role of Elaine Harper.

The play was presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, as well as a matinee on Saturday morning. The attendance at all performances was good, and the students seemed to feel that the play was worth venturing out into the rain to see.

Teddy Brewster prepares to charge "San Juan Hill" as the Brewster sisters, Mortimer Brewster, Lieutenant Rooney, and Mr. Witherspoon look on.

One of the outstanding features of "Arsenic and Old Lace" was the fine sets. Sharon Giovacchini and Terry Lofrano spent many hours after school designing and completing the sets which included a large stairway, hand-made wallpaper and large wooden doors.

Old Lace

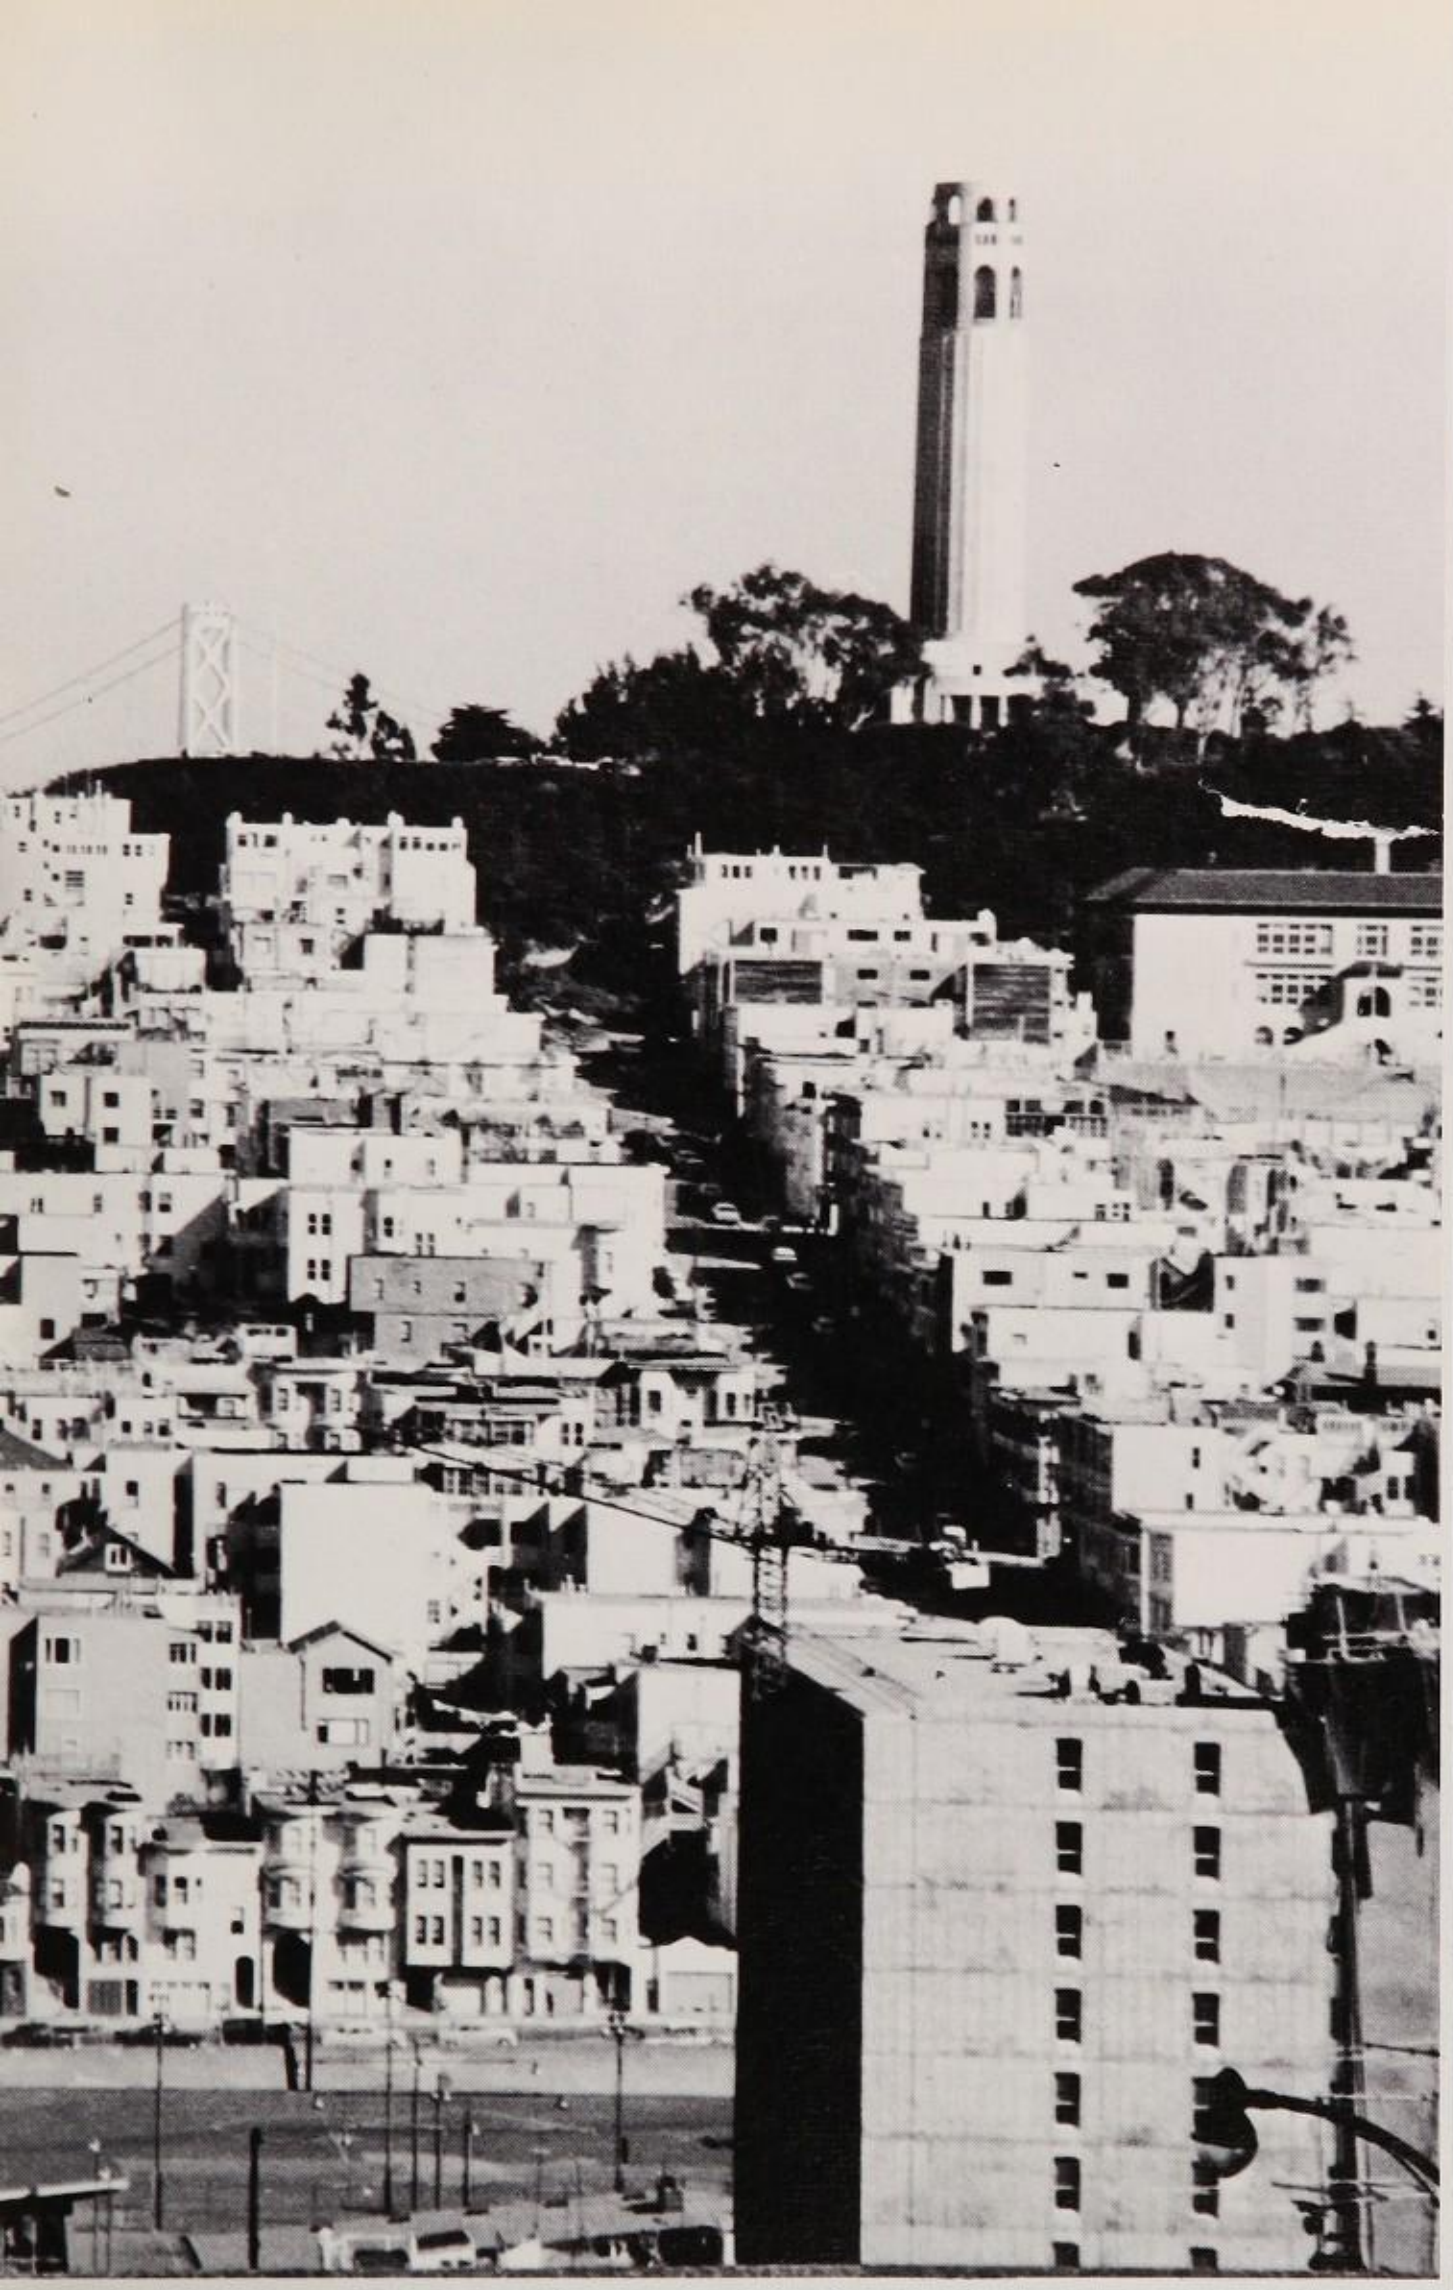

"It has been a long time since I have enjoyed a glass of good elderberry wine."

Elaine Harper is "kidnapped" by Jonathan Brewster and his able assistant Dr. Einstein. Dr. Einstein, the Ben Casey of 1941, decides to set up shop in the Brewster home and "repair" Jonathan's face.

MOVE UP

Outgoing Senior officers Ulpiano Musni, Glora Washington, and Dan Wall tell Ralph Pizzella not to be shy as they turn the traditional Galileo Scroll over to him and Connie Lai, the incoming Senior officers.

Senior leaders Dan Wall, Pat Boitano, Terry Lofrano, Sharon Giovacchini, and Camille Pang stand with solemn faces as they watch three of their most wonderful years come to an end.

The solemn occasion of Move-Up is brightened up with cheerful tunes sung by the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. Grimes.

Kathy Wrigley takes one last look at the familiar auditorium, while Pat Mar seems happy to be leaving. Suzanne Bernardi appears to be looking forward to the moment when she will be leaving too!

The traditional Move-Up in our school is a proud and momentous occasion, and all the upper classmen were assembled to witness the solemn moment. This was the day when all anxious Low Seniors took over as big wheels, and this was the day when the graduating Seniors said their last tearful good-byes. The big moment of the Move-Up assembly came when the future High Seniors stood to be recognized and sang "Climb Every Mountain" as tears trickled slowly down their cheeks.

Our

Administration

Sincere, understanding, and fair; these are only a few of the words which characterize Mrs. Higgins, our Dean of Girls. Mrs. Higgins stands out for many girls as a true friend and counselor, whose warm and fair judgment has led many to more sensible lives. Along with her duties as Dean of Girls, she also sponsors one of the most prominent of service organizations, The Girls' Council. These are only a few of the ways in which Mrs. Higgins has shown her fine talents and interest in the betterment of our school.

Dr. Carlson is one of the busiest, but most patient and understanding counselors Galileo has ever had. Although he is a busy man, he tries his best to advise the students who come to him with their problems. As Head Counselor, his aid to students has helped them to grow and learn through their years at Gal.

A demanding and difficult position at Galileo is that of the office of Boys' Dean. It calls for a patient and understanding person like Mr. Smith. With his utmost concern for the good will of the students, he strives to give guidance to all who seek his counsel. Boys can freely confer with Mr. Smith about their problems to have them straightened out with an impartial, but firm opinion.

WILDCATS OUTCLAW LIONS

Galileo puts a big man named Joe Geran against Saint Ignatius. Poised for fast action are Mike Dunne, Andy Jew, Greg Sinclair, and Dave Wright.

Greg Sinclair goes up for the tip-off while Joe Geran and Andrew Jew stand by for further action.

Shown here is the pep band, as Mr. Portale calls it, because these boys have the most pep and play at the football and basketball games.

VARSITY TEAM SHOWS DETERMINATION

On this page is pictured the hardest fighting, most determined basketball team in the city. They had a tough season but these boys just never gave up. They fought until the final buzzer rang, regardless of the game conditions. Coach Buchanan is pictured with a proud smile extending from ear to ear. No, he doesn't have the glory of his team winning the city championship, but he did have the satisfaction of being coach of the city's hardest fighting team.

While Tyrone Harrison gets the edge on the tip-off, Paul Giambra helps out by blocking a Lincoln player and Ken Chelini gets ready for action.

Under the watchful eye of Galileo's fighting Irishman (Mr. Jack McCaffrey) was our 130's basketball team. Our future varsity men showed great promise due to their undying spirit in the games they played this semester. One of their tougher foes was Lincoln (pictured below). The 130's had a rough season, but played with undying courage. Perhaps they did not get into the play-offs, but no other team fought harder.

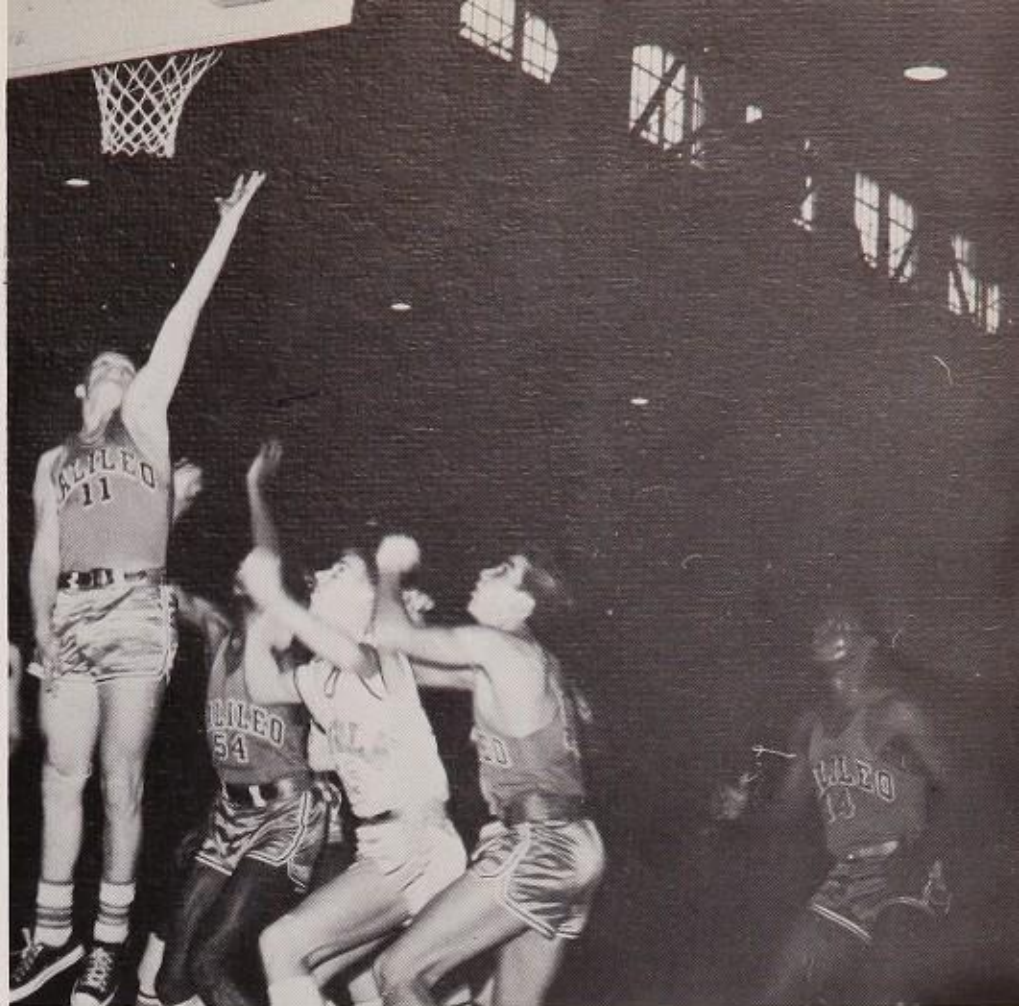

LIONS TANGLE WITH MUSTANGS

Loyal Lion Obie Goodrich gets the tip-off from Lane Mustang.

As John Domingue and Obie Goodrich block, Dennis Duzdevich sinks a lay-up for a critical two points.

Harry Yee's reach falls short of getting the ball while Obie Goodrich disappointingly looks on.

SENIOR SHOW

The brave sword twirling lovely is Margaret Bray.

Our lovely fashion models, who were inspired by the girls in school, are Bob Higginbotham, Mike Pitzer, Hank Coleman, Bernie Pignati, Lanny Ross, Norman Estes, Jim Burghelli, Tom Sugrue, and Jerry Evola.

Mimicking Barbara McKee drew roars of laughter from the audience.

The way Lynn Parker, Yolanda Vizcarra, Sylvia Miller, and Nancy Hayes look, it's apparent that "You Can't Get A Man With A Gun."

Play It Cool

A casual affair known as the Senior Show was presented by the talented Low Senior Class in honor of the graduating seniors. All who attended the "amateur hour" enjoyed it tremendously. The high-point of the Senior Show came when roars of laughter rocked the auditorium as the latest fashions were modeled by the more poised male members of the class. More laughter came as Art Mays did a pantomime to "Bib John" and Nancy Hayes sang her way through "Diamonds Are A Girls's Best Friend."

"Whoopee, it's calypso time" says Ruth Morgan and Judy Doss. Absent from the set are Barbara Johnson, Glora Washington, Phyllis Jackson, and Linda Woodson.

The modern dance group does their interpretation of "Surfer's Stomp." The graceful gals are Sharon Weir, Glora Washington, Genevieve Lim, and Eve Quival. The photographer couldn't catch Seretta Marshall on the end.

A Letter From the Editor

Dear Galileans:

This letter completes the fall and winter sections of the book and draws to a close my duties as editor. I could tell you of the time and effort the staff has put into completing these two sections and of the work that will be put forth to complete the rest of the book, but I will not. I will let the 1963 Telescope speak for itself. If you look at your yearbook with pride and proudly display it to your friends, then we will have succeeded. There is no greater satisfaction that an editor or staff can feel than to know that they have produced a yearbook that pleased their fellow students.

Each member of the staff contributed his share toward making the book. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each one of them for their fine work. They made my job much easier.

In behalf of the whole staff, I want to thank Mr. Frank Brady for his work and assistance. During the year I have served as editor, I have found his knowledge of photography invaluable. I know that the staff joins with me in wishing Mr. Brady the very best of luck in advising the future Telescope staffs.

Graduation will terminate my duties as editor. I want to wish Carolyn Yee, the spring editor, the very best of luck. I know that she will enjoy the job of editor as much as I have.

Sincerely,

Patricia Britano

Spring 1963

Galileo's student court system has been changed to enable more students to participate in the school government. There are now eight members of the student court: the chief justice, the four associate judges, the defending attorney, the prosecuting attorney, and the combined office of clerk and recorder.

A list of violations punishable by the student court was distributed to each registry. Violators were summoned to court by the authorized members of the Boys' Block G, Girls' Council, and CSF.

Lions' League

S E R V I C E

The Lions' League is an organization which has been and still is of a great service to our school. They are responsible for supplying our students with school supplies and selling candy at the football games. They also had a hand in making the K.O. Polio drive and the magazine drive a big success. Other worthwhile projects include making the patient's stay at the Letterman Hospital a little more enjoyable.

Besides doing service to the school, the Lions' League also does a lot of traveling. The League's sponsor, Miss Madsen, takes care of all excursion trips. So far, the organization has taken tours of various universities, such as Davis and Stanford, has taken an educational tour of the United Airlines, and has planned another trip to Disneyland.

Girls' Council

The Girls' Council is one of the many service organizations at Galileo. Membership is applied for and approved by Mrs. Higgins, the sponsor, and the officers. At the present, this organization has adopted the point system to help earn pins and life membership to give recognition to those who deserve it.

This term, Girls' Council has once again undertaken the job of patrolling the halls during the lunch periods. Each girl is now authorized to give out Student Court citations to the offenders. Other worthwhile service projects in which these girls are engaged include helping a Galileo K.O. Polio center and ushering at the term plays and at graduation.

The smiling officers of the Girls' Council are Karen Lum, secretary; Gloria Jong, president; and Mary Goosev, vice-president.

The Galileo ROTC Battalion for Spring 1963 was commanded by C/Lt. Colonel Adam Wolf who was a member of the Drill Team, Boys' Vice-President of the Student Body, and a life member of the Silver Seal Society. His staff consisted of C/Capt. Byron Fortman, executive officer; C/Capt. Garrett Lee, adjutant; C/Lt. Vladimir Stekley, public information officer; C/Lt. Bryan Wong, training officer; and C/Lt. Tyrone Cobb, supply officer.

The Drill Team, this term, was commanded by C/Capt. Tony Leong. The Drum and Bugle Corp was commanded by C/Lt. Robert Miller. Galileo's Drum & Bugle was selected as the only Drum & Bugle Corp to play at the annual 91st Competition. The Color Guard was commanded by C/Lt. Robert Williams.

The Saber Club was revived in the Battalion. This club consisted of commissioned officers only. In many ways it was like a social club, in which it could use its funds in any way it pleased. The Saber Club was led by the Battalion Commander C/Lt. Col. Adam Wolf as president; C/Capt. Byron Fortman, vice-president; C/Capt. Tony Leong, secretary; and C/Lt. Vladimir Stekly, treasurer.

A new system took place in ROTC this term. In order for a cadet master sergeant to become a commissioned officer, he must have passed a three-part examination including an interview with a board consisting of the battalion commander, executive officer, and adjutant. An Officers' Call was also established where officers and non-commissioned officers met to discuss current problems in ROTC.

The battalion is seated listening to announcements after a ROTC parade.

"B" Company, commanded by C/Lt. Charles Torres, is at present arms at a ROTC review and inspection.

M/Sgt. Lindsey and C/Lt. Col. Adam Wolf "troop the line" before the companies pass in review.

Battalion Commander C/Lt. Col. Adam Wolf and his staff reviews errors at an earlier inspection.

Girls' Block G

The girls shown on this page represent a small group of girls who have participated in GAA for four terms. The block awarded to them symbolizes the sportsmanship and skill each of them has developed. Every girl who has developed her sense of fair play and athletic ability for four terms truly deserves her block!

This year the Girls' Block G attended several meetings with block members of other schools to discuss the importance of athletics in the school's extracurricular program. A joint cake sale of both the Boys' and Girls' Block G was held in May.

Boys' Block G

The Block G Society is comprised of boys who have gone out for a sport and have added to Galileo's victories. They are Galileo's own Olympic athletes.

This year the members acquired bright orange and purple hats which they wore with their white sweaters, and as ushers at our rallies and assemblies they easily gained attention and respect.

Eve, Carol, Lisa, and Cynthia are preparing and cutting copy for the layout.

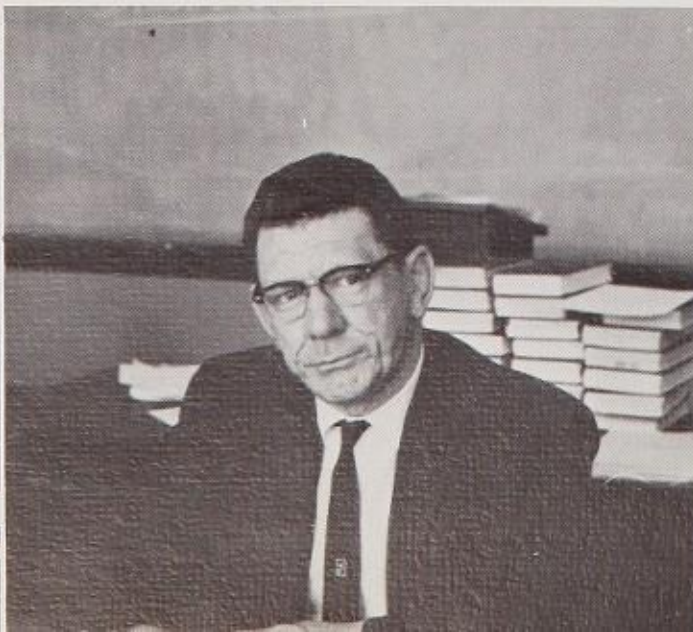

Liz, Nina, and Lonnie and Bev (not shown) are typist for copies of the Pendulum.

As a working pendulum helps keep its clock running smoothly, our Pendulum and its staff help keep Galileo running smoothly with its colorful and informative publications. Something has been added this year for the advising responsibility has switched hands from Mr. Miles Putnam to Mr. Frank Brady. Those not pictured are Beverly Chang, Lonnie Jang, Melody Sherrod, Milo Smotel, and Margaret Van Haitsma.

SPRING '63 TELESCOPE STAFF

Sharlene Chew, managing-editor, and Genevieve Lim work with Carolyn Yee, editor, our little girl with a big heart and plenty of yearbook know-how.

"Help us out, wouldja!" is the cry of Chris Chu and Connie Lai as they plan for senior show and underclass layouts.

Darlene Moeller shows Carolyn Ichiyasu and Eve Quival how the new Galileans will be represented.

Our financial woman, Sharon Low, identifies pictures with May Jew, Christine Yee, and Lorelyn Low.

Charlene Loesch makes a layout as Wilifred Vayassie and Carmen Marrujo comment.

Rich Chan and Chesley Lee aid Ralph Pizzella, sports editor, in presenting Galileo's athletes.

Sharon Low, business manager, and helpers, Tillie Lee, Cynthia Fong, Carol Cereghino, and Jackie Chow, work on the memorable senior section.

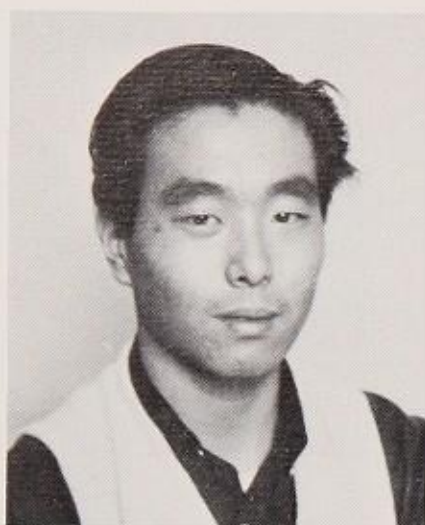

With a ready and willing, "Yes, sir," George Carville, Telescope photographer was always available.

SHARON LOW, a very extraordinary girl, was the type of person you could always depend on. Whenever there was a job to be done, Sharon was always there to lend a helping hand. Sharon's cheerful and energetic personality made working with her more pleasant and enjoyable. At the same time, you laughed and joked with her, but also respected and admired her. Her services to Galileo were innumerable and also as extraordinary as herself. She held many class offices and was secretary of the Silver Seal, a member of the Lions' League, president of the Girls' Council, and business manager and senior editor for the year-book.

With a crack of his wit and a dose of his laughter, Ralph easily became a well-liked personality on the campus. Because of these assets, Ralph became one of the most outstanding and active boys at Cal. He held several registry offices, he was president of both low senior and high senior class, a yell leader in the Song and Yell Contest, sports editor for the yearbook and a reporter for the Pendulum. ADAM WOLF. Galileo's own ingenious Adam Wolf, who was the Student Body Vice President for the past spring term, will be remembered as one of the busiest boys circulating the Gal campus. In a sense, Adam was an ideal Galilean. He was president of his registry for three terms, Commander of the Galileo ROTC unit, Chief Justice in Student Court, President of the Saber Club, a CSF and Silver Seal member. Adam was also one of the chosen few who had the opportunity of representing Galileo at the Boys' State Convention.

With a quiet efficiency and a gentlemanly manner, ALAN MOULD became a part of Galileo. During his three years, he fulfilled many duties and carried out numerous responsibilities. His athletic ability earned him the captaincy of both a soccer and a baseball team and a place in the Boys' Block G. His first Student Body office was athletic manager, and then was elected boys' VP. Although he moved into the presidency unopposed, Galileo was ready to follow wherever he led. His magnetism went hand in hand with the meanness of a true gentleman.

Connie, a girl with leadership, was active in the Lion's League, GAA, and Girls' Block G.

BOB CARTER. If you believe a quiet and serious person to be the best type of worker, that BOB CARTER is the ideal. A man of few words, Bob has never lacked in his supporting of school activities or spirit. As chairman for the Candy Sale, he worked hard to make the project a success. He was also vice president of his registry, prosecuting attorney for the Student Court, an active participant in the Song and Yell Contest, and also one of the few outstanding boys to represent Galileo at the Boys' State Convention. Bob was indeed a fine boy and a credit to Galileo.

CHARLOTTE WONG, one of the most hard-working, industrious, and efficient girls at Galileo, was one of the finest editors the Pendulum ever had. She worked hard to make the Pendulum an exceptionally good school newspaper and without her guidance and leadership the journalism class would never have molded into the great team that it now is. Charlotte was also an active member of the GAA, Girls' Council, Lions' League, French Club, Historical Society, Silver Seal, and CSF.

NANCY HAYES was an intense drama enthusiast with the determination and ambitious drive of a true leader. She devoted her time to making others laugh and be happy, and was a success. As leisure reporter for the Pendulum, Nancy wrote an interesting and amusing article entitled, "Between the Lions." She was an outstanding member of various clubs, Lions' League, Girls' Council, and Block G.

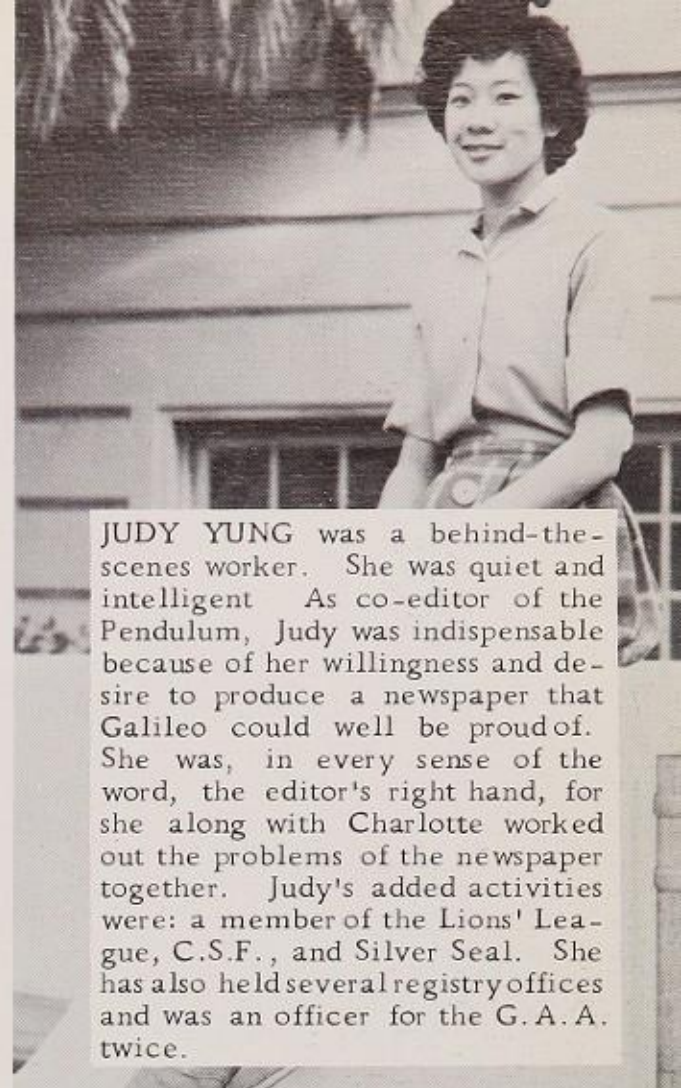

Gracious and poised, JOANN MAC EWEN was endowed with a charming personality that left a striking impression wherever she went. She held two positions in our student court, was a member of various clubs, held several registry offices, and was secretary of her high senior class. JoAnn was also a member of the Junior and Senior Prom Committee, and art editor of the Pendulum. As song girl for fall '62, JoAnn could be remembered as the charming little blonde with the beaming sweet smile.

JUDY YUNG was a behind-the-scenes worker. She was quiet and intelligent. As co-editor of the Pendulum, Judy was indispensable because of her willingness and desire to produce a newspaper that Galileo could well be proud of. She was, in every sense of the word, the editor's right hand, for she along with Charlotte worked out the problems of the newspaper together. Judy's added activities were: a member of the Lions' League, C.S.F., and Silver Seal. She has also held several registry offices and was an officer for the G.A.A. twice.

Anabel Lum

CHRISTINE CHU'S service as song girl for the football season was the important event in her high school career. It was while she was dancing to the familiar beat of the band that she revealed her true personality. Her pep, precision, skill, and all-around appearance easily made her an undisputedly excellent song girl. Chris was also a member of the French Club, Silver Seal, C.S.F., Lions' League, and Yearbook staff.

Dorothy Harper

Sweet and sincere describes CHARLENE LOESCH. If you have ever met her, you would find out what a wonderful person she was. During her stay at Galileo, Charlene was junior and senior song girl for the Song and Yell Contest, active member of the Girls' Council, Lions' League, and Silver Seal. Charlene also held either a registry or class office every term since she entered senior high.

A Cappella

The ACappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. D. M. Grimes, thrilled many school and community audiences during the school year. The choir, during April, while continuing to enlarge its repertoire, ventured into show music for the first time in its history.

Under a new system of government, the choir ratified a constitution that set up standards of conduct and established an awards system.

Another new item that enriched the choir's accomplishments during the year was the election of officers. During the spring term the choir proudly presented the first officers of the A Cappella Choir.

POOL-SIDE POSEIDONS

Lungs straining, muscles aching, Wendel Kawaguchi works hard to develop endurance and stamina.

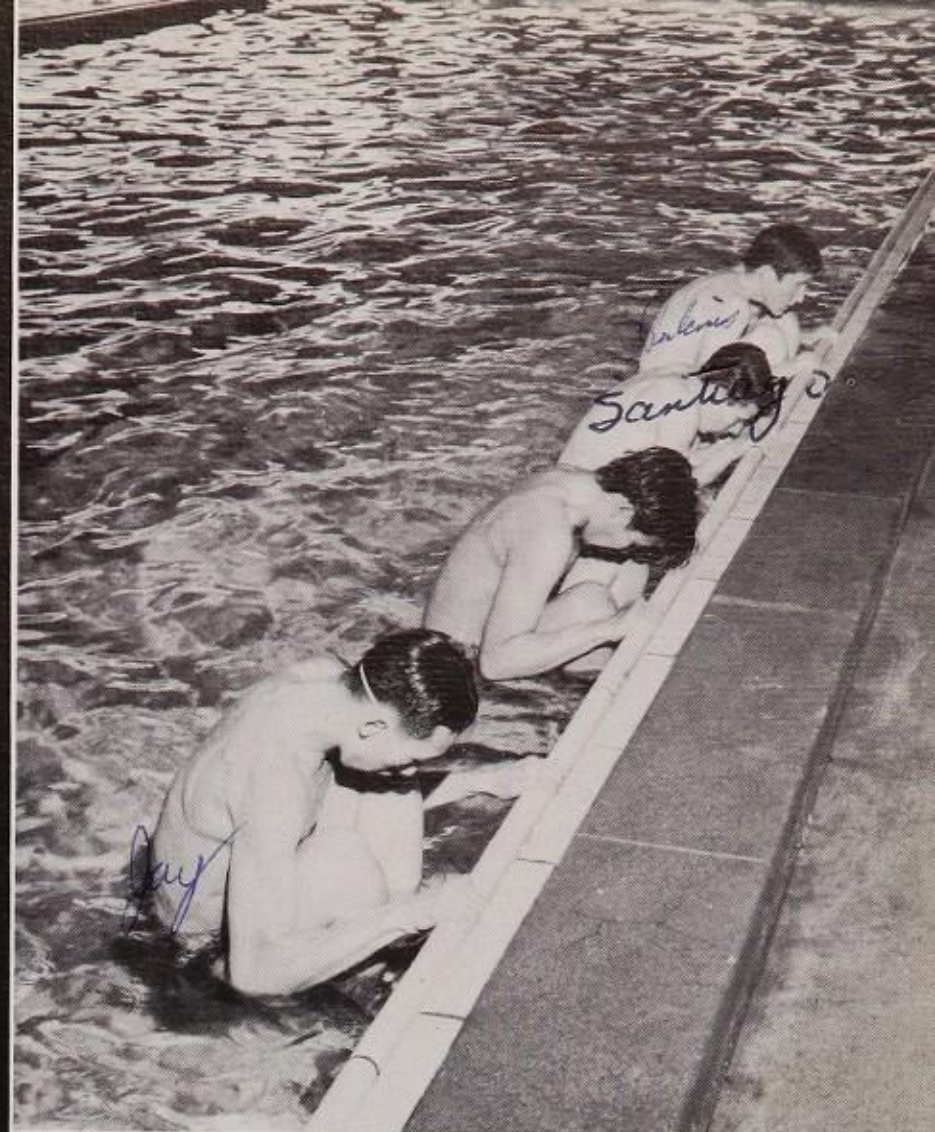

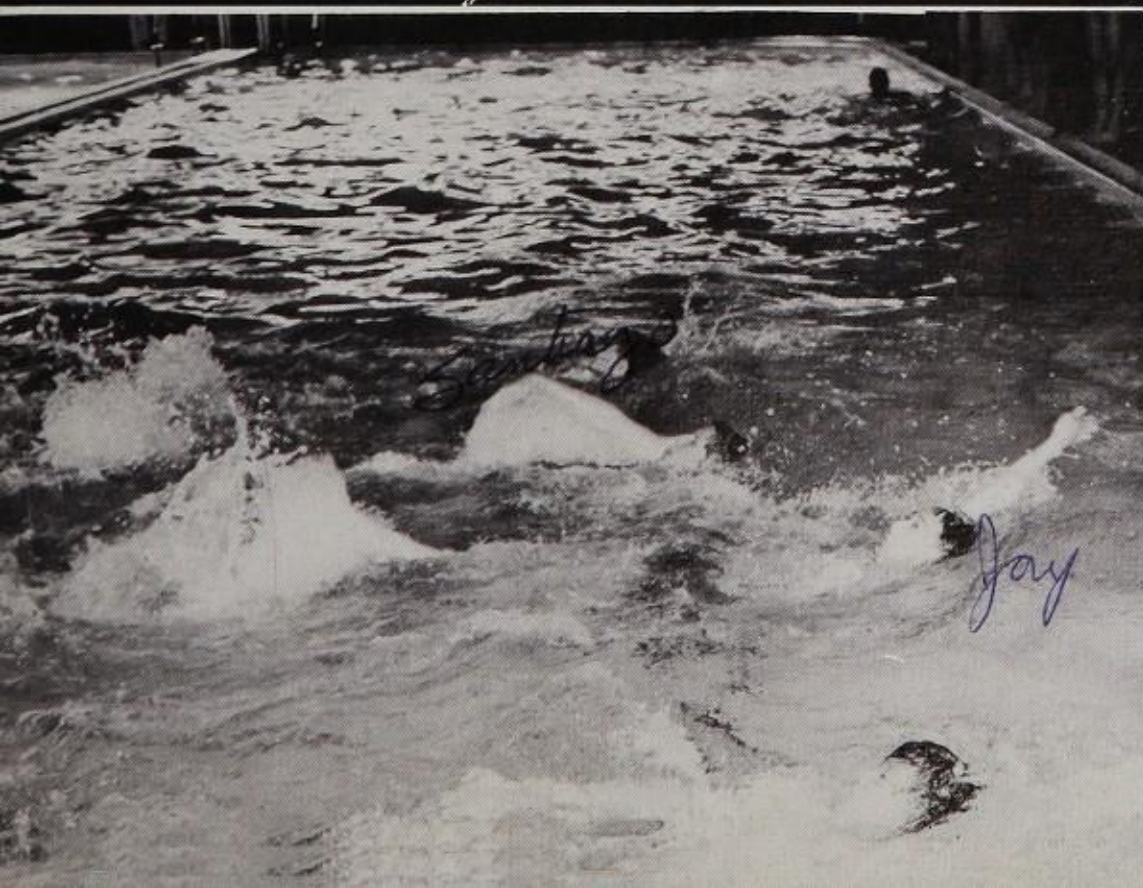

The fellows take a breather while Coach Tong lines up swimmers for a coming meet.

This year's swimming team was unexperienced except for a few returning veterans. One of the newcomers to the team was the coach, Mr. Stanton Tong. Taking over for Mr. Lewis, who retired last year, Mr. Tong did a fine job of working the team. In order to swim in competition one must be in good condition and have endurance. Coach Tong made sure of this, for his hard, fast workouts required the fellows to put forth their best. The team, although small and young, was a good one able to hold its own and win its share of meets because of the demanding and rigorous training. Since the majority of the boys were sophomores and juniors the team showed promise for the next year.

Amid sparkling sprays of water these aquanauts back-stroke furiously to the finish.

OUR FAITHFUL LIONS!

Our faithful lions; Ernita Pon, Genevieve Lim, Faye Shiraishi, Delores Mixon, and Pamela Esleeck, kept our basketball team and the rooting sections in high spirits. These song girls were excellent and their skill was reflected by the originality and cleverness of their routines. The yell leaders, Ken Cereghino, Al La Rocca, and Bernie Pignati shouted at the top of their lungs and did a wonderful job of leading the yells.

Although our basketball team was inexperienced, they could always count on the faithful support of our spirited rooting sections.

Galileo High School is the only school in San Francisco that has a leadership class for girls. We are very fortunate to have this specialized class. Miss Dougherty, the instructor, has done a tremendous job for the leadership girls. In this class the girls learn how to officiate in all the rules of sports played in the Physical Education Department in school. They also learn how to lead a class in exercises. After training, the girls are ready to assist the teachers. We are proud!

This exercise is good for slimming the hips.

FAIR EXCHANGE

Dr. Morena warmly welcomed the exchange students from Wasatch on their first day. From the left is Gerry Erikson, Dan Welton, Jodean Gibbons, and Dyann Dyer.

An Equal Trade

For many years Galileo has participated in a student exchange program each spring. Four students, two boys and two girls, selected by Cameron House with the approval of Dr. Carlson, are sent to Wasatch Academy located near Salt Lake City, Utah. In return, Wasatch Academy sends four students to Galileo for two weeks. Attending a boarding school causes a bit of uneasiness for our representatives, and the exchange students from Wasatch also find a large high school difficult to adjust to. All students soon learn the similarities between Galileo and Wasatch, and they return to their respective schools with many new experiences to tell. This year, Galileo's representatives were Esther Kwan, Lawrence Low, Lorelyn Low, and Russell Wong, and the equal trade brought Dyann Dyer, Gerry Erickson, Jodean Gibbons, and Dan Welton to Galileo.

Dan and Gerry found classes at Gal different from their small classes at Wasatch.

The rush and push one experiences in our cafeteria during lunch took time to get used to, but our visitors took it in stride.

Jodean and Dyann tried out ping-pong in the girls' gym and discovered many sports are offered in our physical education department.

These people are Galileo's scholars who belong to the California Scholarship Federation (CSF). Students who have maintained an A-average are eligible to apply for CSF.

THEY DARE TO BE SQUARE

Those who maintained a B-average apply to the Silver Seal Society. Pictured here are another group of Galileo's scholars.

Bonnie Blackwell

Good morning ...

Mirror, mirror, on the wall, lipstick, powder, make-up, all ...

A double tease ...

Oooh -- and I thought he meant ballet when he said he was a to-be dancer.

Burning the midnight oil ...

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A QUEEN

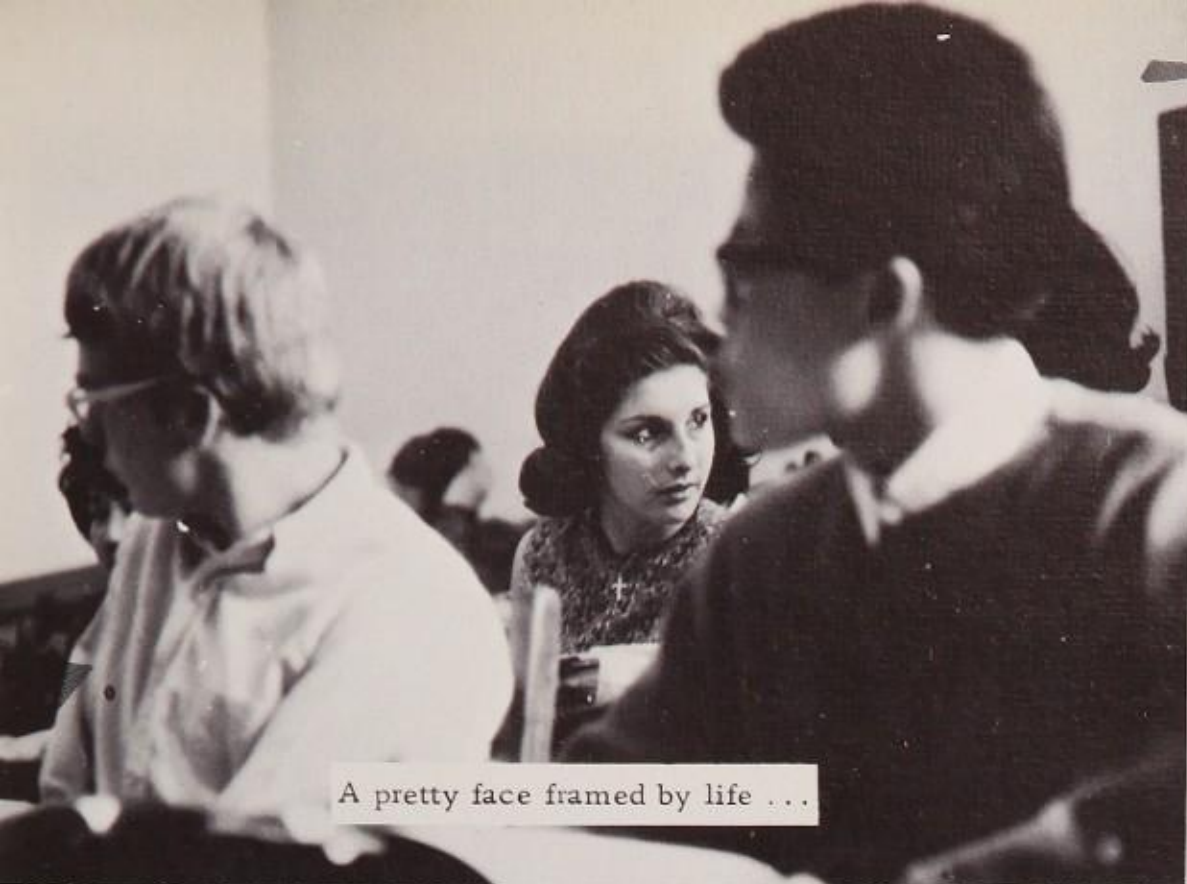

A truly lovely queen ...

Last minute touches -- icing on the cake ...

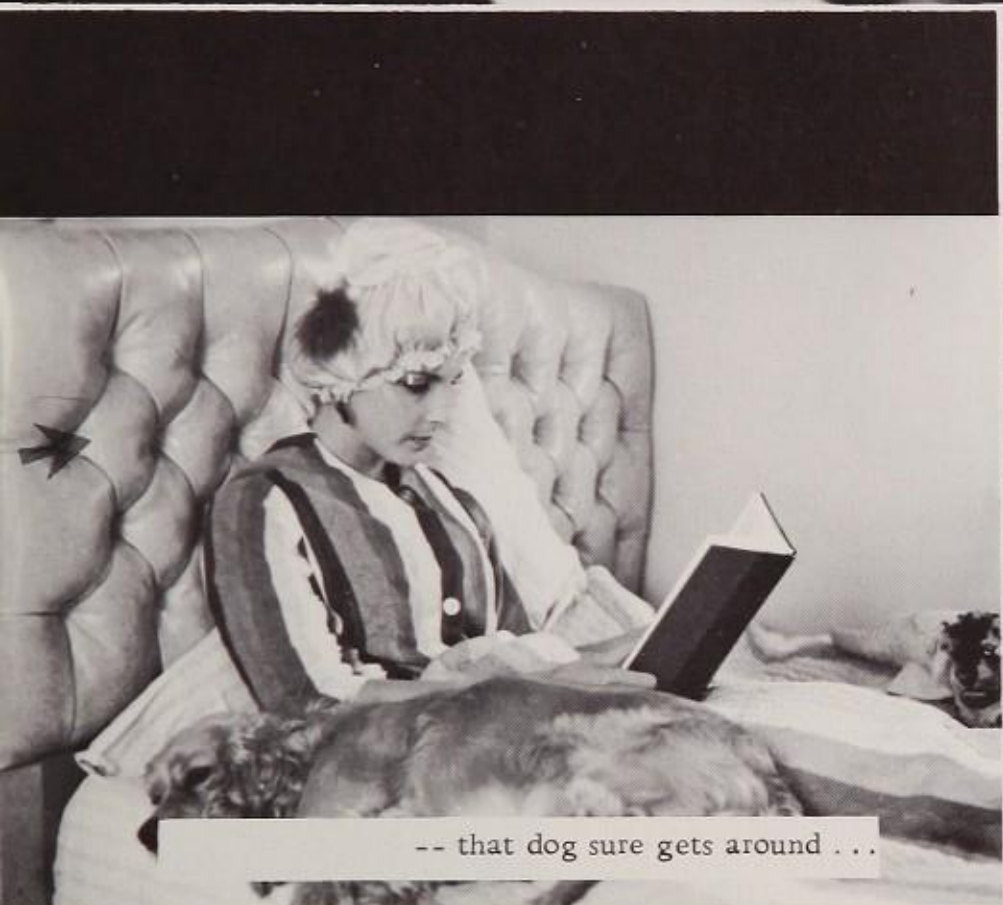

And they say a dog's life is rough

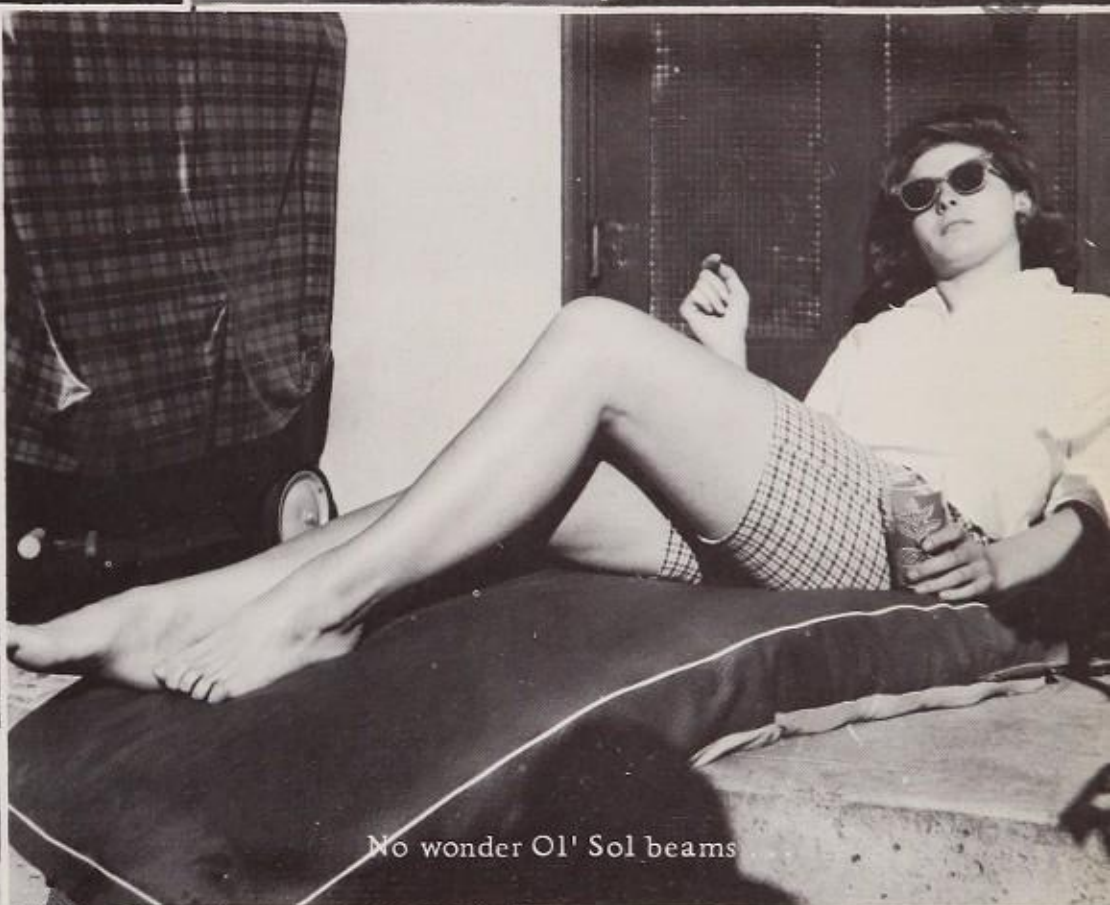

A pretty face framed by life ...

A woman's work is never done --- not even a queen's ...

-- that dog sure gets around ...

No wonder Ol' Sol beams

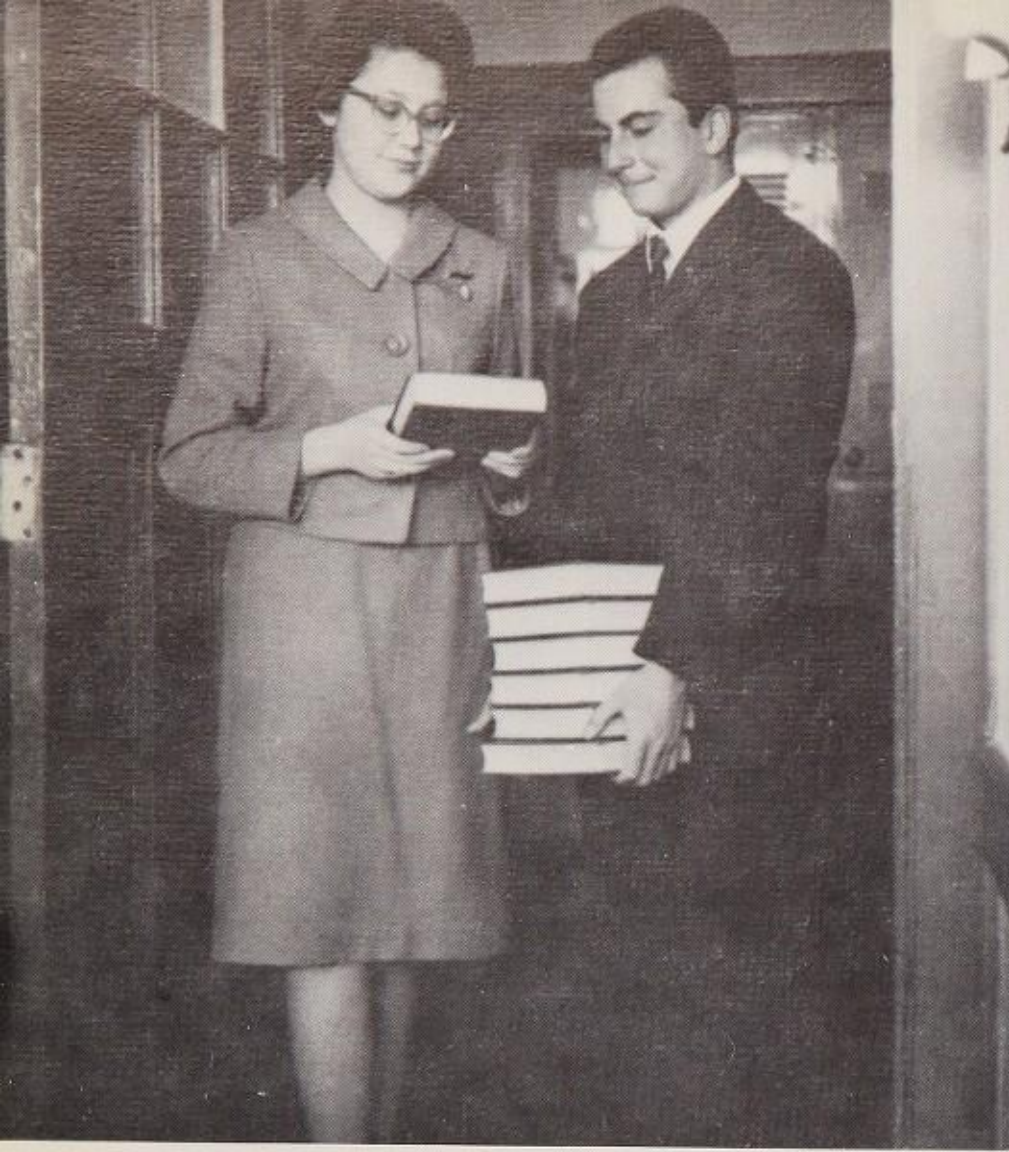

Even turtles have to eat ...

Seven-thirty? Fine ...

TURNABOUT DAY

Miss Smith ---??? Wilifred Vayssie and Jack Marino paused a moment to review a book. Both of them took over Miss Smith's duties in the library and bookroom and found the job more than enough for two people!

Earline Marsh took over Mrs. Healy's stenography classes and discovered it takes a lot to be a teacher.

Miss Dougherty's gym classes were treated to Minnette Jeung's shy smile. "Get into the showers, girls!!"

Margaret Yee takes to chalk dust as she illustrates a point to her class.

SILVER SEAL AWARD WINNERS

From top to bottom are: Russell Lee, Harvey Quan, Katherine Paine, and LiOi Lee.

Terry Lofrano

Terry Lofrano was voted by the faculty as the most outstanding boy in his senior class. He was also awarded the Helms Foundation Scholarship-Athlete award. Galileo will long remember scholar-athlete Terry Lofrano.

Sharon Giovacchini

Sharon Giovacchini was voted by her class as the most outstanding girl in her class. Her favorite hobby was painting and she wants to become an artist. During her stay at Galileo, Sharon had decorated the bulletin boards and dances.

Myron Mu

Galileo's talented musician and scholar won the Bank of America Award for Fine Arts in 1963. The contest was based on scholastic ratings.

Patricia Fong

Patricia Fong achieved the title, "Homemaker of Tomorrow" for Galileo in 1963. This is Betty Crocker's search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She won the title by scoring the highest in a knowledge and attitude test given to senior girls. She later placed first among San Francisco's high schools.

Mary Goosev

Another lion who helps make Galileo such a fine school is Mary Goosev. Mary won the nomination for the Bank of America Award in English and Spanish.

Garrett Lee

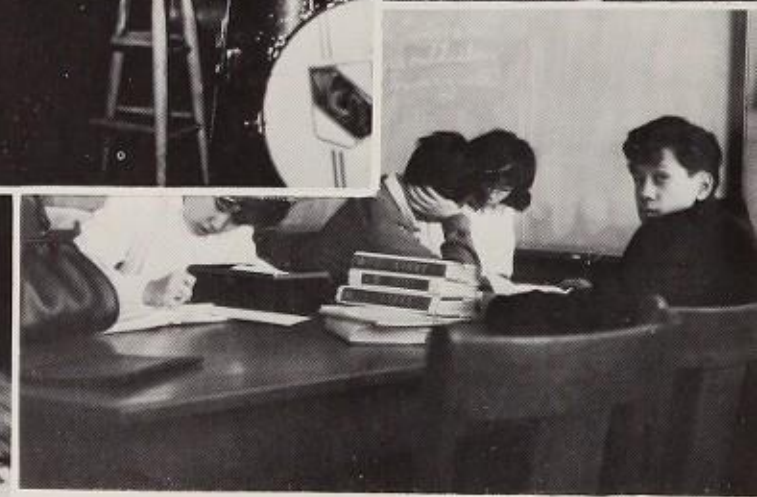

Garrett Lee, an "A" average student, won the Bank of America Award for scholarship in science and math.

Genie Dee

Genie Dee, one of the most intelligent girls in her class, was offered a scholarship to a famous medical school in Massachusetts. Genie wants to become a doctor.
